Starter Kennedy said today that the track tomorrow promises to be the fastest ever seen at an Interstate fair meet here.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Secretary C. S. Van Auken estimated the attendance at 6,000, which is considered good for an opening day.

Tomorrow will be Inter-state day at the fair, when visitors from Minnesota, Iowa and other surrounding states will be here.

With the grounds thronged with hundreds of people, who refused to permit their enthusiasm to be damped or chilled by the weather, the La Crosse Inter-state fair officially opened its doors to the public today.

Today was La Crosse day and if the way local people turned out is a harbinger, the 1914 fair will surpass those of former years in attendance.

For exhibits of all nature the exposition this year is a bigger and better affair than formerly.

"Van" Is Busy.

Yesterday was construction day at the grounds. Practically all exhibits arrived and were put in shape. The busiest part of the grounds was the office of Secretary Van Auken. With his assistants, he registered all cattle and horses and made entries for the three day race card.

Fast Horses Here.

The cream of horseflesh of Wisconsin and surrounding states will be seen on the track.

The star of the free exhibitions this year will be the 19 year old stallion, Miss Katherine Stinson, who will fly twice daily.

Another outdoor free feature are the Demonico and Posto acrobatic troupe, who perform daily in front of the grandstand.

Valuable Horse Show.

Down "horse row," where Wisconsin's choicest draft and other horses will be shown, $50,000 worth of horse flesh will be seen. The entries exceed in number and quality any that have been shown here before.

Equally as large an exhibit will be shown in the cattle pens. Practically all cattle to be shown were in the fair grounds last night. One shorthorn steer imported from Scotland, which has taken several first prizes at fairs this year, is said to be valued at $3,000.

Hogs Interesting.

To the farmer, probably one of the most entertaining parts of the grounds is the quarter containing the hogs. They range from the tiny Duroc, no larger than a lap dog, to the huge Duroc Jersey, weighing more than a pony. One hog exhibited will tip the scales at over a thousand pounds.

Machinery Display

Making a trip from the hog pens to the south gate of the fair grounds, one comes to the machinery portion. A huge traction engine does duty twelve hours a day continuously in a circle, showing its power and durability.

Machinery hall is filled to its capacity with all the many mechanical devices to save labor on the farm.

The automobile show is one of the big features. Dozens of the best makes are displayed.

Mothers' Rest Room.

Three mothers with children have been given especial consideration. A

THREE CRUISERS OF BRITISH FLEET SUNK BY TORPEDO

Submarines Sink Vessels on Scout Close to Helgoland Bight

LOSS OF LIFE IS ENORMOUS

Few Were Saved of Crews Totalling More Than 2,100 Men

LONDON CLAMORS FOR REVENGE

Probable that North Sea Fleet Will Attempt Reprisals on Germans

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Out of a clear sky came the laconic announcement late this afternoon that the Germans had struck a blow at the British sea supremacy. Three cruisers, their value totalling $12,000,000, and carrying a complement of more than 2,100 men, were torpedoed and sunk in the North sea off the German coast, by German submarines essaying a raid similar to that in which they sent the scout patrol cruiser Pathfinder to the bottom.

Active in Scouting. These cruisers, the Aboukir, Hogue, and Cressy, have been reported very active in scouting close to the Helgoland bight, in an effort to locate the German main war fleet. Although the exact location of the disaster, the greatest of the war to date from the British standpoint, is withheld, there are evidences that it was not far from where the British cruiser squadron struck its first real blow against the German in sinking three light cruisers and two destroyers.

Fortunately the loss of life is not absolute. The government says that "a considerable number" of the crews were picked up by destroyers and trawlers that hurried to the rescue. But the exact number of casualties will not be obtainable until the list of survivors can be completed. It is officially admitted, however, that it will be large and among the number it is reported are most of the officers of the three big warships.

British Want Revenge. The announcement of the loss came just at a time when the British public was displaying impatience over the lack of activity against the Kaiser's navy. This impatience, it was stated, had been shared by certain of the high officials of the admiralty who believed that, as the Germans had refused to come out and fight, England should go in and draw their war craft into the open. The disaster has simply augmented that feeling. Demands for speedy vengeance are heard on all sides.

Whether the submarines that caused the disaster escaped, or whether, like the one which sunk the Pathfinder, they also have been sent to the bottom in their turn, is not yet known.

Laconic Message

The admiralty simply stated that the Aboukir, while engaged in patrol, was torpedoed by a submarine; that the Hogue and Cressy, while in rescue of the survivors then struggling in the water; that they in turn fell victims to the German submarines.

WAITS FOR GRIGGS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels will wait one more day for a reply from John W. Griggs, president of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph company, before he proceeds to put into effect his threat to close the Siasconset, Mass., station. Griggs has declared he has made sufficient reply to Daniels' ultimatum when he told the secretary the censorship of wireless was invalid.

WAR "LAYS OFF" CHARLIE YONKERS

La Crosse Man in Important Position in Spain Forced to Return to the United States

MONEY MARKET THERE TIGHT

People Who Financed Immense Power Project Forced to Keep the Money at Home

"Charlie" Yonkers — whom a heap of budding "Young Americans" remember for his training while physical director of the Y. M. C. A. — is one La Crosse man who has been handicapped, temporarily, by the European war.

Yonkers was the chief clerk of the Persons Engineering Corporation of New York, the concern that is in charge of one of the biggest water power projects in the world.

Mr. Yonkers' headquarters were in Barcelona, Spain, when the war tightened the money markets of Europe—upon which his firm depended for their resources—and "Charlie," with thousands of others, has been "called off the job" until the War Lords decide to quit killing off the population there.

Mr. Yonkers ten years ago went to work as a timekeeper on the La Crosse & Southeastern railway at the munificent salary of $2.50 per day.

Until the war started he was drawing a salary—it takes a heap of figures to represent it—as chief clerk of a job employing 15,000 men and employed in putting in one of the biggest water power projects ever attempted.

The "job" with which he was connected was building a series of dams in the Pyrennes mountains, the largest of which required 500,000 cubic yards of concrete—an amount many times greater than that used in the great Keokuk dam across the Mississippi at Keokuk, Iowa.

To illustrate the enormity of the project with which the La Crosse man was connected it is well to know that a complete cement mill costing $150,000, was purchased from the Allis-Chalmers people in Milwaukee, Wis., and shipped to Spain.

The mill, in parts, was conveyed 100 miles from railroads by teams and installed. All the cement required for the job is manufactured on the ground.

According to Mr. Yonkers bankers from Belgium, England and France were financing the project. The war, shut off the resources and it was necessary to suspend operations.

Mr. Yonkers and his wife is staying with his mother, Mrs. E. H. Yonkers, at 312 Main street. His brother, Archie, who was also in Spain, has returned to La Crosse.

ENGLISH INSIST GERMANS CANNOT HOLD POSITIONS

Believe Another Retreat Will Be Ordered if Not Already Begun

EXPECT BATTLE IN NORTH SEA

Fleet Eager for Action and May Try to Enter Helgoland Bight

BY ED L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The military experts here are confident that the weight of the German offensive in France has reached its utmost point. They now expect that another retreat will be ordered, if it has not already begun. The official reports from the battle front, while fragmentary and extremely brief, agree that the Germans have failed at any single point to crush the allied lines. And at a number, the allies have driven the Germans from their first line of trenches into a secondary line far from impregnable.

Gaps are filled. Although the British losses in the present great battle are known to be far greater than in any of the conflicts to date, it is announced at the war office that the gaps have been filled. This has been made possible because many of the territorialists asked for active field service and because of many of the new army volunteers were trained men anxious to see immediate action. Meanwhile all England waits for naval action.

The bold threat of First Lord of the Admiralty Churchill that, if the fleet persisted in remaining under the shelter of the land defenses at Wilhelmshaven and Helgoland, the British fleet would enter and "drag them out like dogs after rats," is known to have reflected the fleet's attitude.

To Risk Few Vessels

Consequently there are many evidences of great activity at the admiralty. High officials are in constant touch, and it is reported that Admiral Jellicoe has been here for consultation. So long as the German fleet remains intact, England must remain in danger of invasion and this factor of itself is a potent argument in favor of the project to risk at least a few war vessels in an attempt to force the Kaiser's fleet out into the open.

Although it is certain that the British losses in the fighting of the last ten days in France have been tremendous, the government flatly says that it has no figures.

RUNS FROM STORM DIES ON SIDEWALK

Lucas Tomasek Stricken with Heart Failure During Downpour Last Night

RESIDED HERE FOR FIFTY YEARS

Came to This Country from Vienna When Still a Young Man; Funeral Friday Afternoon

Running to escape the downpour which drenched La Crosse last night, Lucas W. Tomasek, 427 South Eighth street, suffered heart failure and dropped dead. Mr. Tomasek was in his seventy-seventh year.

Passing a small confectionery store on Ninth street, several persons who had gathered inside from the rain, saw the aged man fall. He fell backwards. Mr. Tomasek's head struck the sidewalk. Physicians said heart failure caused his death.

He had attended a lodge meeting of the Bohemian Benevolent society. For years he had not missed a meeting.

Born in Vienna, Austria, Mr. Tomasek played as a boy on the banks of the Danube river, now the scene of fighting between Russians and Austrians.

He had slight attacks of heart trouble before.

Came to America. Mr. Tomasek left Europe when he was twenty-five years of age and has lived in La Crosse for fifty years.

For a number of years he owned the old City Plow works, Sixth street and Mormon Coulee road. He retired from active life four years ago.

Surviving Mr. Tomasek are the widow, a son and two daughters. The daughters are Mrs. C. A. Comstock, Chicago, and Mrs. Joseph Voltz, 427 South Eighth street. The son is James Tomasek, Ogden, Utah.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon from the home. Interment will be made at Oak Grove cemetery.

GERMANS DECLARE BATTLE OF AISNE GOES FAVORABLY

Say French Have Been Dislodged from Positions on Heights of Craonne

TRYING TO PIERCE ALLIED CENTER

Say Movement Is Slowly but Surely Advancing Toward Success

BRESLAU CUT OFF BY RUSSIANS

All Communication Ceases and Fears Are Felt in Berlin Today

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—Via Wireles Through Sayville, L. I., to the United Press.—The official war office statement issued today reported an uninterrupted series of successes against the French. It said: "The attack of the German troops on the line of fortifications south of Verdun continues uninterrupted."

Cote, in Lorraine, which was defended by the eighth French army corps has been occupied, the Germans now holding this point.

A sortie of the French troops from the northeast front of Verdun was repulsed.

Fortresses like the heights of Craonne (Craonne) have been taken in battle. In the advance against Rheims, which is now afire, the village of Bethany has been taken.

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—Via The Hague.—The official war statement issued today says no important changes are reported from the western theatre of war. It is stated that the movement to take Rheims and with it the eight important railroads especially sought from a strategic point of view, proceeds uninterruptedly and with every prospect of success. In this connection it is stated that the French positions on the heights of Craonne are now in the hands of the Germans and that Verdun has been isolated. This strong fortified position is now being bombarded from two sides by the German heavy siege artillery.

It is understood that the present movement is slowly but surely succeeding. It is declared. On the right, although the allies have very strongly reinforced, they have failed to drive back Gen. Von Kluck's army at any point.

Breslau Cut Off

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—All telegraphic and telephone communications with Breslau suddenly ceased today. It is feared that the Russian center may have pushed forward and be attacking the city.

It seems almost incredible that the Russians could have penetrated in force to Breslau so that they have cut off communication with Berlin. Breslau is one of the links of the chain in the Oder line of fortifications. After Berlin it is the second largest city in Prussia and is the capital of Silesia. It occupies an important strategic position.

It has been prepared for a possible raid by the Russians and the late reports available from there stated there was a very strong German force between it and the eastern frontier.

Cracow Prepares for Siege

CRACOW, Sept. 22.—Via Vienna and Rome.—Cracow is in readiness for battle. Most of the non-resident non-combatants have already left. All others have been ordered to start without delay. The Polish, Hebrew and Ruthenian portions of the population were the first to go. The governor has confiscated all the supplies of food and such material as may be needed by the troops. Everything is in readiness should the Russians break down the main line of the San river fortifications.

While it is admitted here that the Russians have crossed the San, their forces are raiding, and they have been unable to do more than ravish country already abandoned by the Austrians.

Przemysl, while beset by the Russians, is capable of strong resistance, and it is not believed here that the Russians will be able to take it. And in their movement on Cracow they must leave behind them a fortified position, heavily garrisoned, that, in case of disaster, must mean a distinct menace to their rear.

EDITOR ON TRIAL

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 22.—Carl E. Person, editor of the strike bulletin published during the Illinois Central railroad strike, went to trial here today for the killing of Antoine Musser, leader of the crew of strike-breakers at Clinton, Ill., December 30, 1913.

CHANGE FUNERAL TIME

The time of the funeral of Mrs. Sarah Lyons who died at Rochester, Minn., Sunday, has been changed from Wednesday to Thursday afternoon at 1:20 o'clock. Services and interment will take place at Hokah.

ALLIES KEEP UP TURNING MOVE ON THEIR LEFT

Say German Defense Is Slowly but Surely Being Forced Back

VON KLUCK CAN'T GO FORWARD

Declared He Has Needed All of 100,000 Reinforcements to Hold His Line

PARIS MORE RELIEVED TODAY

Situation in Battle of Aisne Said to Be Same as in Fight of Marne Before Germans Broke

PARIS, Sept. 22.—Convinced that Germany now has her entire field strength, the high military officials here declare that within another fortnight, or three weeks, she will be fighting a defensive contest outside of French territory. They base this belief on the reports received by General Gallien, that the British-French turning movement on the left continues, with the Germans giving ground slowly and stubbornly, but giving ground. The German center and left have seemingly given up the attempt to assume the offensive.

Can't Go Forward

The fact that the allies now hold the hills north of the Aisne river, from Soissons to Craonne, proves conclusively, it is pointed out here, that the German reinforcements sent to Von Kluck, not less than 100,000 men, have failed to permit him to assume the offensive. He can maneuver no additional men without extending his lines to the west and this the present disposition of the allied forces precludes, as they hold every point of vantage directly west of the German right wing.

The Germans have already commenced withdrawing and that the battle of the Aisne, the third decisive battle of the war to date, is to be settled with a second victory for the allies.

New Men for Defense

Evidences accumulate here to indicate that the German right has been forced to take a position almost north and south to prevent the turning of its lines into the Noyns-Soissons region and that the entire force of 100,000 men sent to aid Von Kluck to hold the right has had to be disposed of in this way to check an allied turning movement. If this had succeeded it would have compelled the surrender of Von Kluck and a part of Gen. Von Buelow's armies, but the very fact that the Germans were forced to use this force to prevent their rear being exposed to attack was a real victory to the allies. As a result they are slowly pressing the Germans back toward their lines of communication. The weather was reported to be slightly improved today. But there can be little improvement expected at this time of the year. The entire battle ground is a quagmire, and this naturally has hampered the movements of the artillery.

Paris Relieved

As a matter of fact, there were more evidences of content and relief in Paris military circles today than at any time since the turning point in the battle of the Marne. It is declared that the present situation just parallels the last two days of the battle of the Marne, just before the German center abandoned its desperate effort to penetrate the French lines at Vitry Le Francois and began the retreat.

It is stated reports of the French-British aviators who have reconnoitered the German positions show indications of a retrograde movement. The heavy siege guns have in certain places been withdrawn toward the extreme base. This is plainly a precautionary movement but it may also be the beginning of the long expected retreat.

It is believed here that, if the Germans finally abandon their present base, they are unlikely to attempt to hold a new line in the north of France.

Press Von Buelow

It is understood that the allied armies are today making a supreme effort to break through the line of the German army commanded by Gen. Von Buelow. The latter was compelled to weaken his lines by withdrawing a part of his main force to send to the relief of Gen. Von Kluck and the right wing. The French are now attacking the fortified positions held by the Germans which control the railway between Reims and Laon. It they can drive their wedge through they will place Von Buelow and Von Kluck at a material disadvantage.

Discuss Yesterday's Fight

The official statement of the war office issued at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Bordeaux and made public at General Gallien's headquarters says that the Germans were more active generally yesterday along certain parts of the battle line than at any time since the great battle of the Aisne began.

The activity was generally most in

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

ALMOST A MISTAKE

By CLARA INEZ DEACON

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

They were going to have a new weather man at Point Hope. The one that had been in charge for a couple of years was addicted to the habit of occasional spees, and when they happened his predictions of the weather to be for the next three days were terrifying.

Point Hope was a village of 1,000 inhabitants, and was inclined to be social. The weather man, whether married or not, was expected to take a hand in the social game. When it was known that a change was coming there was much curiosity in the town to know what the new man was like.

"I hope he sings bass," said a member of the church choir.

"I hope he isn't a young man and inclined to flirt," simpered an old maid.

"If he plays a good game of checkers I'll board him for half price," said Uncle Riley.

Meanwhile the head of the weather bureau was talking to Burt Hudson, who was to fill the place.

"Young man, you have done well at your other stations, and I'm hoping for the same or better at Point Hope."

"I certainly shall do the best I can," was the reply.

"I don't doubt that your official duties will be performed in a most satisfactory way, but I wish to inform you that I am seeking to raise the dignity of the position. There are complaints that some of our men at small stations play pool. They pitch quoits with any one they go to candy pulls and barn dances. A government is a dignified position, Mr. Hudson."

"Yes, sir."

"And a government official should never let himself down. He may mingle with the outsiders in a social way, but should ever consider his dignity."

"I understand, sir," replied Mr. Hudson.

Burt Hudson had a sociable disposition. Some folks, particularly young folks, had called him jolly. He had heard that there were nice people in Point Hope, and had been pleased with his appointment. He was not so well pleased after ascertaining that he must stand on his dignity and be looked upon as a prig. His living did not depend on the salary paid, but he liked the work, and was pleasing his mother and a rich uncle by his interest in it.

In due time Mr. Hudson arrived at Point Hope. The population turned out to meet him. He was himself until within ten miles of the town, and then he became somebody else. He put on the mantle of dignity as advised by his chief. How it worked was told in the comments of the people when they came to compare notes.

"I told him I'd like to play checkers with him," said Uncle Riley, "and he glared like a January blizzard."

"When he came in I was for shaking hands with him and asking about his family," said the landlady of the inn, "but he sorter drew away as if I was second class. I don't believe he'll ever come back once a week."

"I shall never dare ask him to the farm to eat a boiled dinner," said a farmer.

Two of the most interesting people in Point Hope were the Widow Welcome and her daughter Marian. It was said of them that they had the nicest house and the most money, and no one disputed that the daughter was the handsomest and best educated young lady among them. Marian had never been told that she must stand on the other side of a six-rail fence. She had dignity enough, but that did not prevent her from being jolly.

Two weeks after Mr. Hudson's arrival he was being discussed by mother and daughter. A young man had escorted Marian and another girl to the signal station and introduced them. They were received with altogether too much courtesy and dignity to please them.

"He is a gentleman, mother," said the daughter, "but he freezes one. I don't believe the governor puts on the dignity that Mr. Hudson does."

"Perhaps it comes natural to him," observed the mother.

"It strikes me right the other way. There were times yesterday when he seemed about to come down off his high horse for a moment, and then he would catch himself. He was stiltedly polite. He was courteous itself, but one felt that he was a mile away and the door locked against the world."

"What have you girls learned about him?"

"Well, he sings."

"Yes?"

"The boys think he can play baseball."

"Yes?"

"And they say he must know about pool and billiards."

"He likely does."

"But what we girls want is some one that will pitch in with us and make things lively. I looked at Mr. Hudson and tried to imagine him at a candy pull, but it sent the shivers over me."

"Well, dear, he may be quiet and unobtrusive among strangers, but let us hope he will thaw out as he gets acquainted. I met him on the street the other day, and I rather liked him. We will have a few people in some evening and invite Mr. Hudson to meet them."

"I'll tell you one thing, mother. Mr. Hudson needn't flatter himself that he owns all the dignity for forty miles around. If he doesn't drop it I'll freeze him."

A gathering took place and Mr. Hudson was there. He thawed out considerably, but not enough to escape censure. The majority said that his attitude belonged in a New York drawing room. Miss Marian met him with a smile, but at the look of dignity on his face she froze up and was like an icicle the rest of the evening. The mother was the only one of the party who read the young man truly.

TWO SHORT STORIES. WUINETT yet After the guests had gone she said to her daughter:

"I think I can read Mr. Hudson aright."

"Then you can read a rock!" was the sulky reply.

"He is acting a part in being so stiff and formal."

"Why in the name of cats does he do it?"

"I can't tell, of course. Maybe it's by the advice of his mother, who has a wife picked out for him, and maybe Uncle Sam has ordered his signal corps to stand on their dignity. At any rate, I like him, and hope he will call often."

"I shan't put myself out to entertain such polar bear!"

"You see if he doesn't begin to thaw out soon. If he is acting a part, as I believe he is, he can't hold to it many weeks. You'll see a change in him when he calls and finds us alone."

The mother's words proved true. There was a change, but not enough to suit the girl. She could see that he was less stilted and that he let himself smile once in a while, but when he had departed she said to her mother:

"Why, he talked astronomy half the time and natural history the other half."

"But he was interesting."

"So are hitching posts! Why didn't he ask me if I could skate and swim? Why didn't he ask about straw rides? Why didn't he say he'd trim the church for Thanksgiving?"

When Mr. Hudson had held the station six months all the people agreed that he had thawed out at least one-half. This, they contended, was doing pretty well, but it was not enough to satisfy Miss Marian, who said to her mother:

"When Mr. Hudson shows that he is human as other men, maybe I shall begin to like him."

Queerly enough, there was evidence of it next day. He appeared at the house and challenged her to ride with him on his new tandem bicycle. She accepted at once, and they had a five mile spin, to her delight. It was repeated in a few days, and they had been out half a dozen times, when the sudden, terrific and awful change she had hoped for took place.

They were trying to get home before a thundershower, when the bicycle ran over a hog on the highway and the riders were sent flying into the bushes. Marian was not much hurt. As she tried to gather her wits she heard some one exclaiming. As she sat up she recognized Mr. Hudson's voice. As she dragged herself to her feet and hung to the bushes she saw him "belting" the hog with a club, and heard him say:

"— your eyes, take that!" And also: "Lie in the road, will you, you nuisance?"

"Uncle Sam and his old weather can go to Texas! I'm through with this dignity nonsense."

And when the girl reached home she said to her mother: "I shall be engaged to Mr. Hudson within four weeks!"

WILL BE PAID FOR MOTOR CARS SEIZED

WASHINGTON Sept. 22. — The state department is replying to numerous complaints from American tourists against the commandeering of their automobiles that it has assurances in the war zones from the belligerent nations that owners will be fully recompensed. Solicitor Cone Johnson advised the complainants today to make their claims to the proper authorities abroad. The state department will keep hands off in such cases, unless claimants fail to get restitution from the foreign governments.

REVENUE CUTTER ON ALASKAN REEF

Tahoma Aground with 72
Men on Board but All
Are Expected to Be Saved

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Messages to the revenue cutter service today announcing the wreck of the cutter Tahoma in the Aleutian islands, contained assurances that the entire crew of nine officers and sixty-three men would be saved.

"S. O. S." calls from the Tahoma were picked up by ships and wireless stations along the Alaskan coast, and the Japanese liner Takoma Maru and the steamer Senator are speeding to her rescue.

The Tahoma is one of the newest and best cutters in the service, and fear is felt that she will be pounded to pieces on the reef where she is held.

Occasionally a story will fall flat in spite of the fact that it has a good point.

COLLECT EVIDENCE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Collecting of testimony is being rapidly concluded in the government's "trust busting" suit against the Southern and Central Pacific railroads to break up control of the Central by the Southern Pacific. It was stated at the department of justice today. Trial in open court at Salt Lake City of the case is planned this fall or winter.

Daddy's Bedtime

The Different Story — Ways In Which Animals Sleep.

Bats Sleep Head Downward.

JACK in pink pajamas and Evelyn in little white "nightie" ran a race for the sofa, where daddy was sitting before the sparkling log fire.

Evelyn won and cuddled up close to daddy and giggled as Jack climbed up on the other side.

"Think you're awful smart, don't you?" growled Jack.

"There, there, kiddies, don't be at war with one another. There is enough of that in Europe," said daddy pacifically. "Be good and I'll tell you about a sleepy subject—how some animals sleep. Haven't you often wondered?"

"Don't they all go to bed, daddy?" asked Evelyn.

"Huh!" said Jack by way of comment, still feeling warlike.

"No; they do not; at least not our way, for elephants sleep standing up.

When in a herd a certain number act as sentinels, while the other members of the herd sleep. These big beasts are very timid at night for all their great size, and this timidity makes them cautious.

"Bats sleep head downward. They hang by their hind claws. You'd think they'd have rush of blood to the head, wouldn't you?"

"And the owls, the funny things, draw a screen sideways across their eyes close to their eyelids and go fast asleep in the daytime.

"Birds, with very few exceptions, sleep with their heads turned tailward over their backs and with their beaks thrust underneath their wings.

"Storks, gulls, flamingoes and other long legged birds sleep standing on one leg.

"Ducks sleep on open water. To avoid drifting ashore they keep paddling with one foot all the time they sleep, and that makes them move around in a circle."

"I should think they'd get dizzy," said Jack, popping up his head.

"Ho, ho!" jeered Evelyn.

"Stop warring," said daddy, putting an arm about each warlike kid-lie.

"Let me tell you about some other animals."

"Foxes and wolves sleep cuddled all up, their noses and the soles of their feet close together. The only blanket they have is their bushy tail."

"Do they change that around once in a while to cover another spot, daddy?" innocently inquired Evelyn.

Daddy ignored her, while Jack laughed.

"Lions, tigers and cat animals stretch themselves out flat upon their sides," continued daddy, quite as if he had not been interrupted. "Their muscles twitch and throb all the time they sleep, ready at any time to spring up and fight. Now, my kiddies must go to bed."

TO SHAME THE DEVIL

Moncena Dunn asks what would happen were the United States to send an unarmed army of 100,000 men to march between the battle lines of the belligerents in France? Perhaps it would be bad for the 100,000 men. We entertain a hunch that were Mr. Dunn to lead the expedition he would get his Irish up and ransack the first corpse he found for firearms.

However, the question is interesting. The psychological effect would be felt, although perhaps not until after the funerals. A year ago a writer in the American Magazine told a story of a mythical president of the United States who, when the war clouds of a threatened invasion from Europe darkened this nation, disbanded the army and scattered the fleet through far away waters. There was no war.

The idea of this author is akin to that of Mr. Dunn. What do YOU think the belligerents would do were 100,000 unarmed peace envoys from a neutral nation to march between the lines of fire?

PREPARING FOR PEACE IN MIDST OF WAR

The peace movement has been accelerated by war. Agitation for world peace has reached its high water mark, and the sentiment in the war-tired nations following the restoration of peace may definitely "put it over."

Particularly interesting are the peace cartoons being published. McCutcheon's drawing showing the monarchs leading the charge, by contrast emphasizing the fact of their safety while they send thousands to the grave, was calculated to make the ranks think.

A platoon of soldiers bears the inscription:

Here go good men, needed by their families, to kill other good men, needed by their families.

A hospital scene is accompanied by the information that every soldier killed means thousands of dollars in war expense—it costs thousands to kill one good man, needed by his family. A battle field scene, strewn with dead, is called, "The survival of the unfit—the lame, the halt and the blind."

Parades of marching women, all in black, plead for peace. Peace associations have adopted mottoes and their members are wearing "peace buttons."

If one wants to get the spirit of it all, read the stories of death and destruction in the daily papers, and then spend an evening with that inspired little volume:

"War, What For?"

IS LYING DIPLOMACY?

Declaring that Russia had assurances of French support as definite as the understanding between Germany and Austria when the mobilization was begun, the Saturday Evening Post publishes portions of the correspondence between the rulers, with derisive comment upon their insincerity.

Following are a few examples: In view of these self-evident circumstances there is ghastly humor in that final correspondence between Czar and Kaiser: "I thank thee from my heart for thy mediation, the accepted mummery at St. Petersburg begins—doubtless after having considered by what routes Germany should be invaded—and subscribes himself: "Thy devoted Nicholas."

The actor at Berlin replied: "The friendship I inherited from my grandfather on his deathbed, for thee and thy kingdom, has always been holy to me"—and orders more wire entanglements for his beloved friend's troops.

The emperor of Japan must deliver a solemn rignarole to the general effect that attacking Tsingtau is a sad duty. How much finer if he had said, in simple candor: "Observing that Germany has both hands full we consider this an auspicious moment to kick her in the slats and grab her handbag."

"The Grand Mountebanks," the Post calls these devastating monarchs, fawning upon each other with daggers in their sleeves. Could we eliminate the soldiers and put the kings to the front, as McCutcheon's cartoon suggested, it might be a square deal, for with this inter-married monarchial feud "it's all in the family."

"BARBARIC YAWP"

One wonders what part the late Walt Whitman played in the tax unpleasantness in Wisconsin. Had the poet known "to what base uses we may return" he might have refrained from admitting that "I sound my barbaric yawp over the roofs of the world."

Still, we can not make ourselves feel particularly displeased with Mr. Adams, for we choose to apply his language to those who knowingly misrepresented the tax situation.

Remember, fellow citizens, that if Mr. Philipp or Mr. Karel wipes out the entire state government and every cent of expense incidental to it, you will still have 92 per cent of your taxes to pay. And with the long famished bread-line awaiting the idea of November, what chance will there be to save money?

JUST THE LAW THEY WANT

Shakespeare put it in the mouth of one of his characters to say, "The world affords no law to make thee rich." If the Wisconsin legislature shall afford none, the victors now seeking the spoils will be grievously disappointed.

On the other hand, an ounce of cure is worth a pound of I-told-you-so.

Psychology of the Game
When the zephyrs blow
And the posies grow,
And their fragrance perfumes the air,
When the future's bright,
And all nature's right,
And the weather is warm and fair;
When there's naught but strife
And pure joy is rife
And the whole works is to the good;
When the birdies sing
And most everything
Is behaving just as it should;
When folks wear a smile
Of a happy style
And refuses to reduce the same
Even by an inch
It's a mortal cinch
That the home team has won a game.

When the clouds hang low
And the north winds blow
And all nature seems sad and dread;
When there's nothing right
In the mortal sight
And all nature seems sad and drear;
When the entire town
Wears a gloomy frown
Through and through and through
You can't drive Dull Care away;
When you're a mighty sore
And your life's a bore
And the whole world seems awful tame;
You can safely bet
All that you can get
That the home team has dropped a game.

On the Road
A commercial traveler had been talking his hardest, his most eloquent, his most persuasive for nearly an hour to a shrewd old Yorkshire business man. The old fellow seemed convinced and pleased, and the traveler thought he had his fish landed. But the Yorkshire man said: "There's man had Jock—Ah! I like him to hear what ye have to say. Will ye coom this afternoon and go over your talk again?"
Certainly sir—with pleasure!" replied the traveler, heartily, and at the hour appointed presented himself again for the interview with father and son. Again he went over the points of the article he had to sell—forcibly, eloquently, persuasively. Never had he acquitted himself of a finer "selling talk."

When he had finished the old Yorkshire man turned to his son and said, enthusiastically: "Do you hear that, Jock? Well now that's the way I want ye to sell our goods on the road!"—Tit-Bits.

She Put Him Wile
Upon her hand he pressed his lips. She said it wasn't right. But he didn't seem to understand. Her hidden meaning quite. "I beg your pardon, then," said he. "If it was out of place," "It surely was," the maid replied. And then he kissed her face.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SO SAYS TMINENT SPECIALIST
So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomachache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. "O," replied the doctor, coolly; "then you had better go to a veterinary surgeon. He's the only doctor I know of who cures his patients without asking them any questions."

Like a Gas Meter
"But don't judge a man by appearance," said Mayor C. S. Marshall at a banquet in Columbus.

"Jackson Wentworth, after an absence of thirty years, returned to the home of his youth. Jackson had a slight affection of the skin which made his nose very red. Hence, when he called at the parsonage, the old minister remarked: "Jackson, Jackson, my man; I'm afraid you've become a hard drinker."

"Don't judge by appearances, Dr. Steenthy," said Jackson Wentworth. "I hardly average two glasses of beer a week."
"Well, then," said the minister in a soothing voice, "I guess your face, Jackson, is like my gas meter. It registers more than it consumes."

The Correct Time
"Have you no clock in your bedroom?" inquired Mrs. Lexington.
"No," replied Mrs. Amsterdam. "I do not need one. I always know how late it is. If my husband comes in noisily from his club I know it is nearly half-past 10 or 11. If he is very amiable and says 'Good night, darling,' it is between 12 and 1. If he takes off his shoes downstairs and creeps into bed without turning on the light it is at least 3 o'clock."

The Alternatives
"I've got to choose between paying my doctor and keeping up my life insurance policy. I haven't enough money for both."
"Stand off the M. D.; if your policy lapses you'll die sure."

DEFIES NAVY CENSOR.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The navy department today awaited a formal reply from the Marconi Wireless Telegraph company to Secretary Daniels' ultimatum of Saturday and no one would comment on an interview of President John W. Griggs of the Marconi company, in which he desired the navy to attempt threatened closing of Siasconset station for sending unneutral messages.

Secretary Daniels was away today. Navy officials are confident that on his return Daniels will carry out his threat to close the Marconi station, if Griggs persists in his defiance of navy censorship.

CHAPTER XIV. Writing Home.

"Dear Brick and Bill: "I don't know what to tell first. It's all so strange and grand—the people are just people, but the things are wonderful. The people want it to be so; they act, and think according to the things around them. They pride themselves on these things and on being amongst them, and I am trying to learn to do that, too. When I lived in the cave—it seems a long, long time ago—my thoughts were always away from dirt-floors and cook-stoves and cedar logs and wash-pans. But the people in the big world keep their minds tied right up to such things—only the things are finer—they are marble floors and magnificent restaurants and homes on what they call the 'best streets.' At meals, there are all kinds of little spoons and forks, and they think to use a wrong one is something dreadful: that is why I say the forks and spoons seem more important than they are, but they want it to be so. "They have certain ways of doing everything, and just certain times for doing them, and if you do a wrong thing at a right time, or a right thing at a wrong time, it shows you are from the West. At first, I did not say a word, or turn around, without showing that I was from the West. But although I've been from home only a few days, I'm getting so that nobody can tell that I'm more important than the furniture around me. I'm trying to be just like the one I'm with, and I don't believe an outsider can tell that I have any more sense than the rest of them. "Miss Sellimer is so nice to me. I told her right at the start that I didn't know anything about the big world, and she teaches me everything. I'd be more comfortable if she could forget about my saving her life, but she never can, and is so grateful it makes me feel that I'm enjoying all this on false pretenses for you know my finding her was only an accident. Her mother is very pleasant to me—much more so than to her. Bill, you know how you speak to your horse, sometimes, when it acts contrary? That's the way Miss Sellimer speaks to her mother, at times. However, they don't seem very well acquainted with each other. Of course if they'd lived together in a cave for years, they'd have learned to tell each other their thoughts and plans, but out in the big world there isn't time for anything except to dress and go. "I'm learning to dress. I used to think a girl could do that to please herself, but no, the dresses are a thousand times more important than the people inside them. It wouldn't matter how wise you are if your dress is wrong, nor would it matter how foolish, if your dress is like everybody else's. A person could be independent and do as she pleased, but she wouldn't be in society. And nobody would believe she was independent, they would just think she didn't know any better, or was poor. Because, they don't know anything about being independent; they want to be governed by their things. A poor person isn't cut off from society because he hasn't money, but because he doesn't know how to deal with high things, not having practiced amongst them. It isn't because society people have lots of money that they stick together, but because all of them know what to do with the little forks and spoons. "It is like the dearest, jolliest kind of game to me, to be with these people, and say just what they say, and like what they like, and act as they act—and that's the difference between me and them; it's not a game to them, it's deadly earnest. They think they're living!"

"Do you think I could play at this so long that one day I'd imagine I was doing what God had expected of me when he sent me to you, Brick? Could I stay out in the big world until I'd think of the cave as a cramped little pocket in the wilderness with two pennies jingling at the bottom of it named Brick and Bill? If I thought there was any danger of that, I'd start home in the morning!"

"We are in a Kansas City hotel where all the feathers are in ladies' hats and bonnets instead of in the gentlemen's hair. To get to our rooms you go to a dark little door and push something that makes a bell ring, and then you step into a

WISCONSIN WOMAN VICTIM OF STOMACH ILLS QUICKLY RESTORED

Mrs. Herbert Haire Gains Every Day After Taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy.

Mrs. Herbert Haire of Shawano, Wis., was a victim of stomach and digestive ailments. She tried many remedies and sought relief in many ways. At last she decided to try Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The swift results astonished her. She wrote: "I am gaining every day since taking your stomach remedy and tonic. Shall continue to take it until I am sure I am in permanent good health. Enclosed find an order for a dozen and a half bottles for my suffering friends, for I know it will cure them."

dugout on pulleys, that shoots up in the air so quick it makes you feel a part of you has fallen out and got lost. The dugout doesn't slow up for the third story, it just stops that quick—they call it an 'elevator' and it certainly does elevate! You step out in a dim trail where there are dusky kinds of lights, although it may be the middle of the day, and you follow the trail over a narrow yellow desert, turn to your right and keep going till you reach a door with your number on it. When you are in your room, you see the things that are considered more important than the people.

"There's an entire room set apart for the sole purpose of bathing!—and the room with the bed in it is separate from the sitting-room. You can go in one and stay a while, and go in another and stay a while, and then go in the third—and you have a different feeling for each room that you're in. I'd rather see everything at once, as I can in my cabin. And that bed! If my little bed at home could be brought here and set up beside this hotel wonder, the very walls would cry out. . . . I wish I could sleep in my little bed tonight, and hear the wind howling over the mountain.

"The dining-room is the finest thing I ever saw; I doubt if the kings and queens of old times ever are in richer surroundings. There are rows of immense mirrors along the wall and gold borders—and then the tables! I wonder what would happen if anybody should spread newspapers on one of these wonderful tables and use them for a table-cloth? At home, we can just reach out and take what we want off the stove, and help our plates without rising. It's so different here! After you've worried over crooked lists of things to eat that you've never heard of, and have hurried to select so the waiter won't have to lose any time, the waiter goes away. And when he puts something before you, you don't know what to call it, because it's been so long, you've forgotten its name on that awful pastebord. But there's something pleasant when you've finished, in just getting up and walking away, not Letters like that come from all parts of the country. Thousands have taken this remedy with remarkable results. The first dose proves. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucus, cold accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

We want all people who have chronic stomach trouble or constipation, no matter of how long standing, to try one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. One dose will convince you. This is the medicine so many of our people have been taking with surprising results. The most thorough system cleanser ever sold. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold by leading druggists everywhere.

caring who cleans up the dishes! "I've been to the opera-house, but it wasn't an opera, it was a play. The house—I wish you could see it!—the inside, I mean, for outside it looks like it needs washing. The chairs—well, if you sent that stool of ours to a university you couldn't train it to look anything like those opera-chairs. And the dresses—the diamonds. . . . Everything was perfectly lovely except what we had come to see, and my party thought it was too funny for anything; but it wasn't funny to me. The story they acted was all about a young couple fooling their parents and getting married without father and mother knowing, and a baby brought in at the last that nobody would claim though it was said to be somebody's that shouldn't have had one—the audience just screamed with laughter over that; I thought they never would quiet down. Out in the big world, babies and old fathers and mothers seem to be jokes. The star of the evening was a married actress with 'Miss' before her name. You could hear every word she spoke, but the others didn't seem to try to make themselves plain—I guess that's why they aren't stars, too.

VIRGINIA VOTES ON LIQUOR

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 22.—A beautiful fall day today brought out an unusually heavy vote in the special election on state-wide prohibition for the Old Dominion. The bright day was generally believed to favor the white ribbon forces by developing an unusually heavy vote of farmers.

Even the worm will turn when trod upon, but it doesn't necessarily insist that one good turn deserves another.

KING GEORGE JUST HEARD OF WAR

LONDON, by mail to New York, Sept. 21.—It was only a few days ago that one of the kings of the world learned of the European war. Only when a vessel from Auckland arrived at port on the Tonga, or Friendly Islands, did King George II, of that tiny domain, know that eight nations are at each other's throats. King George II immediately announced to King George V that he would "maintain his neutrality."

King George II rules over 25,000 odd subjects.

ROAD WORK STARTS

Work has been started by the Milwaukee road on the relaying of new rails from Grand Crossing to the south side station. A crew of twenty men is at work. New rails on both mains will be laid, improving vastly the line from through the city.

TAKE GERMAN ISLAND

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The Austrian government has informed the home government that the Australian navy has captured the island of Nauru, thus destroying the last German wireless station in the Pacific.

T. R. TO LINCOLN.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 22.—Theodore Roosevelt left here this morning on the Rock Island for Lincoln, Neb.

"We should leave footprints in the sands of time," quoted the wise guy. "Yes, and we are also told that time flies," added the simple mug. "What I can't understand is, if times flies, where do the footprints come from?"

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the cause which produces the affection," says Dr. J. W. Ray of Rockton, Ala. Continuing, he says: "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-kamnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia and particularly the headaches of women."

When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for which nothing is better than "Actoids", and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets, to carry a few Anti-kamnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets. Anti-kamnia Tablets can be obtained at all druggists and so can A-K Salve, so well known for Eczema and skin diseases.

ILLINI MENTOR SEES GOOD YEAR

Zupke, Former Badger Star, Has Much Material for a Stone-wall Line

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 22.—Illinois looks like a contender for the western conference football title this fall. Fourteen "I" men will report to Coach Zupke, among them several of the veterans that made the 1913 Illinois one of the surprises of the season.

Schobinger, last year's fullback, will hold the same job on this year's eleven. Macomber looks like one of the halfbacks and there is a hint that Pogue, who played a brilliant quarter last year, may be placed at the other half position. In that case, Zupke would have Clark, last year's freshman quarter, or Wagner, another promising backfield man, either of whom might be shifted to quarter. Rue, Sennett, Carpenter and Marquardt are other veteran backfield men Zupke has to make selections from and the Illini will start the 1914 schedule with two strong sets of backs.

Last year Zupke's main source of worry was his line. He succeeded, however, in pounding green men into forwards and this year has several veterans of excellent caliber. Captain Chapman probably will be seen at guard this year. Tupper, Lamsche, Pruett and Siebens are the other veterans. Wenzler, former Wisconsin player; Hackman, Trager, Duncan, Petty and Nelson are promising recruits from last year's freshman eleven and Madison, big tackle on the 1912 freshman eleven, who failed to return to school last year, will try for one of the line positions. On early hope the Illini will have a much heavier team than was produced last year.

Captain Chapman and Macomber probably will be called upon to do most of Illinois' kicking. Chapman has been busy booting the ball during his summer's vacation. Macomber, a star quarter from Oak Park high school of Chicago, won a prep school reputation as a field goal kicker.

There are two newcomers on Illinois' schedule this year—Wisconsin and Ohio State. Wisconsin last met Illinois in 1907 when the Badgers were humbled 15 to 4. Ohio State and Illinois have not met since 1904 when the Buckeyes were overwhelmed, 46 to 0. For the first time since 1890, Purdue will be missing from the Orange and Blue card, Wisconsin was given Purdue's place on the schedule. The Illini program follows:

Oct. 3—Christian Brothers college at Champaign.
Oct. 10—Indiana at Champaign.
Oct. 17—Ohio State at Champaign.
Oct. 24—Northwestern at Evanston.
Oct. 31—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
Nov. 14—Chicago at Champaign.
Nov. 21—Wisconsin at Madison.

LOCAL HORSEMEN ENTER AT FAIR

Mrs. Harry Palmer Enters Three Horses in Four Events at Big Fair

DAN PATCH PRODUCTS PRESENT

Direct Patch and Labell Patch to Race; Noll Enters Horse Jerry H.

One of the best racing programs in years is offered by the Interstate Fair association for the big fair which opened yesterday to the public amid a whirl of activity. Never before have there been so many first class entries made for the races. Six entries from La Crosse have been made, two by C. L. Hood with his horse, Fabiani, in the 2:23 trot Wednesday and the 2:28 trot Thursday, and four by Mrs. Harry Palmer. Mrs. Palmer enters Kissimmee, 2:18 1/4, in the 1:28 trot this afternoon, Coletta, 2:06 1/4, in the 2:09 pace tomorrow, and Baylander, the wonderful old bay gelding, in the 2:23 trot Wednesday and the 2:23 trot Thursday.

Two of the offsprings of the great Dan Patch are at the grounds and will race. Direct Patch, the brown stallion belonging to Frank Nonchek of Fond du Lac, is entered in the 2:23 trot Wednesday while Labell Patch, brown horse, is entered by Charles Bowman of Savanna, Ill. A field of seven are entered in the 2:18 trot today. Eight are entered in the 2:09 trot. W. V. Noll of Marshfield, well known turfman, brings Jerry H., chestnut gelding for the latter event.

The races for Wednesday offer a slightly larger field, as seventeen entries have already been made. S. F. Guttenstein of Milwaukee enters Timolean, the widely known chestnut gelding for both events.

Both races tomorrow are for $500 purses. Coletta, with a mark of 2:06 1/4, is expected to make a creditable showing in the 2:09 trot.

REPORT ALLEGED RIOTS

LONDON, Sept. 22.—News agency reports from Geneva declare rioting is taking place daily in the streets of both Vienna and Berlin. It is declared shops in the poorest sections of the cities are being looted and that many women have been shot down in the attempts to control the mobs.

CATTLE DERAIL TRAIN

GREEN BAY, Wis., Sept. 22.—Two hundred passengers on the Northwestern passenger train due here at 1:50 a. m. were badly shaken up early today when the train ran into a herd of cattle north of the city. The locomotive, mail and baggage cars were derailed.

Effective Punishments.

One of the first judges—real judges—of Deadwood put in operation many odd ideas of corrective punishment. If a man was brought before him charged with shooting up a peaceful place without provocation this judge used to delight in tolling off half a dozen good shots, whose business it was to fire all around the accused, who was made to stand up against a wall. The closer the shots and the more scared the accused the better the judge liked it. If the accused demurred against this little tit-for-tat punishment he was formally ordered to stand up and the maximum sentence under the code was meted out to him. In the case of a prisoner who might not be impressed with the target practice sentence there were other penalties, such as a five mile gallop on a frisky horse, with the legs of the accused tied under the horse's belly and a saddle made of fair sized stones wrapped in a blanket for his seat. Protest against this meant again the extreme code punishment.

Stage Bells.

"Parsifal" is interesting, quite apart from its artistic merit, as having had a musical instrument invented for it, and named after it. The reproduction of the sound of church bells in opera was long a difficulty. Real bells simply drowned the orchestra, and all substitutes were tried in vain until Doctor Moti designed the Parsifal bell instrument, somewhat on the principle of the grand piano. Each of its five notes has six strings, which are struck by large hammers covered with cotton wool. And the result is as near to the solemn sound of church bells as the theater has been able to get.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Chas. A. Beyschlag, druggist, 503 Main St.

WHY HEADS OF HAIR ARE SO DIFFERENT

"Nature intended that every woman should have a wealth of beautiful hair—hair that can be arranged into an attractive coiffure which accentuates her beauty," writes Betty Dean, beauty authority. "But so much depends upon the method of care, especially cleansing, that many fail to claim their right. If you use makeshifts instead of something designed for shampooing only, the scalp and hair follicles may suffer injury and the hair grow dull, brittle and fall out. I have found that the easiest to use and most economical shampoo mixture is made by dissolving one teaspoonful canthrox in a cup of hot water. It gently, yet thoroughly, removes every trace of dandruff, excess oil and dust and so energizes the hair roots and delicate tissues that they become strong and healthy. After rinsing, the scalp is clean and pliant and the hair is soft, glossy, easy to do up and so fluffy it looks very, very heavy. These scalp stimulating canthrox shampoos not only promote a healthy condition, but encourage an abundant and silky growth of hair."

ASTHMADOR GUARANTEED TO RELIEVE ASTHMA

"I have arranged with Geo. E. Mariner, 425 Main street, that every sufferer from Asthma, Hay Fever or Bronchial Asthma in La Crosse can try my treatment entirely at my risk," Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann announced. He says: "Buy a 50-cent package of my Asthmador or Asthmador Cigarettes, try it, and if it does not afford you immediate relief, or if you do not find it the best remedy you have ever used, take it back to Geo. E. Mariner and he will return your money, cheerfully and without any question whatever. After seeing the grateful relief it has afforded in hundreds of cases, which had been considered incurable, and which had been given up in despair, I know what it will do. I am so sure that I am not afraid to guarantee it will relieve instantaneously. The druggists handling Asthmador will return your money if you say so. You are to be the sole judge and under this positive guarantee, absolutely no risk is run in buying Asthmador."

Persons living elsewhere will be supplied under the same guarantee by their local druggist or direct by Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn.

NO PROGRESS IN INDEPENDENT PLAN

Condition of La Follette Main Consideration; Others Mentioned as Possible Timber

MADISON, Wis. Sept. 22.—Apparently there has been no further progress in the movement to bring out an independent candidate for governor and no indication could be obtained at the law offices of La Follette & Rogers as to what action will be taken by Senator La Follette. It is said here, however, that the friends of the senator have not given up their efforts to bring him into the contest and that there is a possibility that he will enter if his health will permit. He has practically recovered from an attack of ptomaine poisoning and whether he is strong enough to withstand the strenuous campaign which he generally wages is the question that is now being discussed by many of his followers.

The talk of an independent candidate does not wane here. The publication of a letter from former Senator John J. Blaine of Boscebel has added fuel to the flame and many who were undecided a few days ago are now openly advocating an independent candidate. Other men who are mentioned in connection with the talk of independent candidates are George McKerron of Pewaukee; Dr. John Baffel of Milwaukee and State Dairy and Food Commissioner John Q. Emery of Albion.

Bull-Fight Tragedies.
Bull fights as Madrid have been marked by two tragedies recently, one of them of a very unusual character. During an exhibition by amateurs a bull which had been severely wounded by a torador was writhing in agony when a matador approached to attack it with a short sword. In his struggles the wounded animal knocked the sword out of the matador's hand and sent it flying over into the public enclosure, where it struck a spectator in the chest, killing him on the spot. The victim of the second tragedy was Miguel Freg, the Mexican torador, who was overtaken in the ring and killed by a bull. He died in the hospital shortly afterward.

REPORT GERMANS DESTROYED TOWNS

Herve and Betties in Belgium Reported Razed to Punish the Citizens

OSTEND, Sept. 22.—It is stated here that the Germans, in revenge for an attack on them by civilians, have completely destroyed the towns of Herve and Betties. The inhabitants, it is stated, resisted the demands of the Germans to pay a fine and furnish foodstuffs. In the fight that followed the Germans lost heavily. When they finally conquered they forced fifty of the male inhabitants to bury the German dead. Afterward they made them dig a pit and stood forty-eight of them on the edge. All were shot into the pit. The two survivors were compelled to bury their companions and then detained as prisoners.

About Sound Waves.

One of those scientists who are always developing apparent paradoxes in thought has come forward with the statement that sound itself is not extraneous, but exists only because of nerve. In other words, if the ears of the human race were removed tomorrow the world would be absolutely noiseless to humanity. The contention is that the sound waves, traveling at a rate of 1,090 feet a second, create invisible ripples in the air just as a pool ripples when a rock is thrown into it. The greater the force of these waves the louder the sound. But there is no noise until these sound waves strike the sensitive nerves of the ear. Thus, reverting to the original proposition, the air waves themselves would be noiseless if they did not operate in conjunction with the human sense of hearing.

CORPORAL O'BRIEN—A HERO OF THE WAR

Corporal O'Brien of the 9th British Lancers.

Corporal O'Brien took part in the memorable charge of the 9th British Lancers, under Captain Grenfell, against a German battery at Mons. He is shown here making his now famous appeal to the sons of Great Britain to join the fighting ranks. He said: "I took my part in the charge at Mons, and my two brothers were killed within a hundred yards of me. My hand will be better by Thursday, and I'm going back. If it's not better it will have to be. Come forward and help to fill up the gaps."

To Kill Crabs and Lobsters.

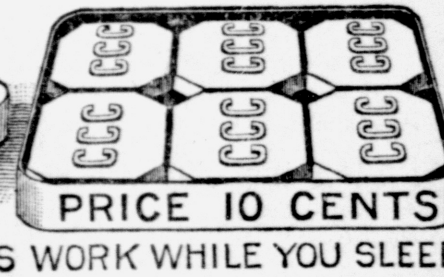

The killing of lobsters and crabs for the table forms the subject of an interesting pamphlet issued by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of London. It gives the results of a series of experiments carried out by Mr. Joseph Sinel, late of the Jersey marine biological laboratory. He comes to the conclusion that the most humane way of killing crabs and lobsters is to place them in cold water and very gradually raise the temperature. The death which ensues is apparently quite painless, and must be somewhat analogous to that of a person succumbing to a "heat wave."

FEEL FINE! KEEP BOWELS ACTIVE, STOMACH SWEET AND HEAD CLEAR

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable and uncomfortable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and clogged-up bowels—you always get the desired results with Cascarets.

PROBE HOARDING BANKS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Comptroller of the Currency Williams today began an investigation ordered by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, of complaints that many banks are hoarding currency, locking up in their vaults even the Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency issued by the treasury, or demanding exorbitant interest and refusing loan extensions. Speedy and summary action against offending banks was promised by the comptroller. He expects to submit a report within a fortnight.

"AIR GIRL" TO DROP BOMBS FROM SKIES IN MIMIC WARFARE

Miss Katherine Stinson, aged 19, the world's youngest "air girl," will demonstrate during the fair the value of the aeroplane in modern warfare.

With the papers filled with stories of the dread "death-by-night" ships which sail over cities in the darkness, dropping bombs with horrible destructive results, the exhibition promises to prove one of the most thrilling and interesting of the big interstate fair. This dainty little Miss will show how even she could destroy ships, parts of armies and even entire cities.

Armed with several paper sacks filled with flour, she will circle the grounds, dropping the "projectiles" on targets representing warships and buildings.

Miss Stinson, who flies twice daily, is accompanied by her brother, who acts as mechanic. She has given exhibition flights at points in all sections of the United States and her control of the aeroplane is equal to that of some of the world's greatest male aviators.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

FRANCE—Military experts in Paris believe the beginning of the end of the battle of the Aisne is at hand. They assert that the turning movement against the German right wing is gaining momentum and that unless Von Kluck soon retreats he will face capture and possible annihilation. The weather shows signs of improvement.

RUSSIA—Part of the Russian army is now attacking the main fortifications of Przemyśl and the line toward Jaroslavl while the remainder is pressing against the fortified positions extending to Cracow. Under an armistice all of the noncombatants were permitted to leave Przemyśl. German reinforcements at Cracow are reported advancing east to aid the Austrians.

BELGIUM—Reports of renewed activity by the Belgian army are current at several points. At Lille newspaper prints an account of an attempt by his chauffeur to make King Albert a prisoner of the Germans. It says that the king shot his chauffeur dead when he discovered the plot.

ENGLAND—Military experts say that indications point to a complete victory for the allies in the battle of the Aisne. Reports are already current that Gen. Von Kluck has moved his headquarters to Mons, but they are not confirmed. Reports accumulate that the British fleet is considering an important move against the German battle fleet at Wilhelmshaven.

GERMANY—The war office says that the battle in France continues with the Germans continuing their slow but sure ground gaining. The situation generally is described as excellent, but definite information is withheld.

AUSTRIA—Heavy reinforcements are beginning to be sent to Galicia where the Austrians are now holding intact all of their important fortifications.

SERBIA—A Rome dispatch says that the combined Serbian and Montenegrin armies have captured the city of Sarajevo, the capital of Bosnia, defeating the Austrian garrison with enormous losses.

TEAMSTER HURT FOUR ESCAPE IN AT BREWERY PLANT BAD AUTO WRECK

Geo. Kihm Probably Fatally Injured in Accident at the Gund Company

George Kihm, 927 Tyler street, a teamster in the employ of the Gund Brewing company, sustained serious and possibly fatal injury when he was crushed yesterday afternoon between his truck and a warehouse at the brewery. He suffered a bruised arm and chest, with possibly complicated internal injuries.

Kihm was unloading empty beer kegs at the time. He jumped to the ground and at the same instant the horses backed the heavy truck, catching him between the wagon and the side of the warehouse. Fellow employees summoned the St. Francis ambulance and the man was rushed to the hospital. Kihm lies in a critical condition there today.

WILSON YIELDS TO LABORER.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 22.—Yielding his position in the Princeton polls to a grimy workman in overalls, President Wilson this afternoon cast a vote for renomination of Representative Allen Walsh and other candidates.

"Go ahead, sir," remarked the president to the laborer, "I've got plenty of time."

Houston People Near Death on Turnpike Leading from La Crescent to La Crosse

Four men, all Minnesota residents, thought to be from Houston, narrowly escaped death yesterday afternoon when their auto left the turnpike near West Channel. They were hurled twenty feet. No one man was seriously injured.

The party, according to La Crosse men who saw the accident, were on their way to La Crosse to attend the fair. When on the road halfway between La Crescent and La Crosse, the driver turned out to pass a team and brought the machine over the edge of the roadway. The big machine turned over three times and alighted bottom side up. The driver, sticking to the machine, while the other occupants jumped, came out of the scrape unhurt. Another received a bad gash on the forehead.

The machine was restored by Louis and Henry Fox, State street blacksmiths, who went to the scene with block and tackle in an automobile.

ALLIES KEEP UP TURNING MOVE ON THEIR LEFT

evidence, the report says, between Rheims and Souain and also against the heights of the Meuse in Woëvre. It is stated, however, that at no point have the Germans penetrated the French lines, and that the situation continues favorable from a point of view of the allies.

Official Text

The text of the official announcement read as follows:

"All along our whole front the Germans were active on Monday without obtaining any appreciable result. On our left wing the Germans have given ground before the allies on the right bank of the Oise river. Between the Oise and the Aisne, the situation is practically unchanged since the last report, the enemy apparently contenting himself with a long range bombardment."

"At the center between Rheims and Souain, the enemy attempted an offensive movement, which has now been repulsed. Between Souain and the region of the Argonne forest we have made some progress. But between the Argonne and the Meuse there is no change."

"In the region of the Woëvre the enemy has been making a violent effort. He attacked the heights of the Meuse but was unable to make any headway. The chief objects of his attack were the lines along the Heudicourt-Vignolles-Tresvaux, where we are heavily entrenched. His assaults were all hurled back with losses."

Capture Auto Trains

"On September 20 and 21 we captured twenty revictualing automobile trains with their entire personnel. We have also taken many prisoners representing various portions of the German active army corps, the Bavarian landwehr and the reserve corps. The presence of the landwehr and the reserves indicates how hard pressed the enemy has been for reinforcements."

"In Galicia the Russians have pursued the rear guard of the Austrian army, inflicting very heavy losses. The Russian troops are in contact with the Austrian garrison of Przemyśl and the heavy Russian artillery is bombarding the fortified positions along the San below Jaroslavl and Przemyśl."

EVEN THE SALOON WANTS NEUTRALITY

FORCE REDUCTION IN "PORK BAR'L"

Republican Filibuster in the Senate Reduces Bill from 53 to 20 Millions

HOUSE CERTAIN TO MAKE FIGHT In Paring Appropriations Mississippi Work Will Not Be Cut Out

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—By almost unanimous vote the senate this afternoon passed the rivers and harbors bill, allowing $20,000,000 to be expended on existing projects under the supervision and in the discretion of the army engineers. All amendments to the committee report as ordered last night by the senate were voted down.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Drastic reduction of the rivers and harbors, "pork barrel" appropriation bill from $53,000,000 to $20,000,000 was ordered by the senate last night.

Senator Burton of Ohio, leader of the filibuster against the "pork barrel" bill, was given credit for forcing the reduction. Burton won his filibuster fight. The democratic leaders in charge of the bill were unable to hold all democrats solidly behind the measure. Sixteen democrats voted with republicans to recommit the bill to the commerce committee with instructions to reduce its total to $20,000,000.

The commerce committee met to pare the bill to $20,000,000. Continuing work on the Mississippi and Ohio rivers will be amply taken care of, it was stated.

Whether to make the $20,000,000 a lump appropriation or divide it among continuing projects specifically was the question facing the committee. The reduced total means that no new projects will be authorized.

A fight in the house against accepting the senate cut to $20,000,000 was deemed certain. The house may make a determined stand to restore many appropriations.

In compliance with the order passed by the senate the commerce committee today reported in place of the bill a joint resolution appropriating $20,000,000 to be spent on rivers and harbors projects already under way. Discretion as to where the money shall be spent and how much at each place, was left entirely to the army board of engineers.

"FRIEND" TAKES THE CHANGE FOR DRINK

Charles McDonald changed a five dollar bill in a La Crosse saloon yesterday afternoon, ordered something and turned around. When he turned back, his $4.95 was gone. Bert Elkins, claiming to be from McIntosh, was arrested. He had been with McDonald and was accused of taking the money. He pleaded guilty before Judge John Brindley in county court yesterday afternoon and was given thirty days in county jail.

"Whys" of European War Moves Explained By Military Expert

(BY J. W. T. MASON)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—11 A. M.—Redirection of the strength of the allies' line is suggested by the Berlin statement that an attack has been resumed against the French frontier fortifications south of Verdun. The Germans have not been reinforced in that area, on the contrary the inference recently drawn in this column has been confirmed that the recent German move at Metz meant the dispatch of troops from Lorraine to reinforce the battle front west.

The French apparently had similarly weakened their Lorraine frontier corps to strengthen their line at other points. The Germans, in consequence, seem to have been able to take the initiative once more about Verdun.

The Verdun engagement, however, has little bearing on the immediate strategy of the great battle now raging.

The French fortress line should be able to hold its own against the weak attack necessarily imposed on the German Lorraine frontier offensive by the far more serious developments to the west.

The two points of attack at which the allies have been aiming since the battle of the Aisne began, are the center and the right wings, roughly divided by Rheims. To the east of Rheims the German center has been moved backward very slowly, but to the west, the right wing has held steadily. It is probable, therefore, that if the French eastern frontier force has been lessened, the men are being sent to reinforce the allied efforts west of Rheims.

The subjugation of this line would mean the collapse of the German defenses along the Aisne. To accomplish this purpose the allies are concentrating their efforts at three points: along the Aisne at Rheims, which dominates the railway connection; along the Oise, which marks the extreme German right, and at Craonne, about half way between Rheims and the Oise. The present slackening of the fury of battle doubtless is due to the assimilation of reinforcements by both sides, for besides French reinforcement probably being moved to the west of Rheims, it is known the German right and center are being strengthened. A resumption of the circling movement directed against Von Kluck, with further assaults at Craonne and Rheims and by the allies, as part of the same strategic plan, should become evident as soon as the disposition of the reinforcements has been made.

The Russian advance upon Cracow has again become obscured and it is impossible to determine the battle line, which oscillates greatly as it is defined at Petrograd and Vienna. It seems probable, however, that the Russians are now well across the San River, having left a strong besieging force, probably of at least 100,000 to envelope the fortified camp at Przemyśl.

The rest of the Slav army is pushing the Austrians across western Galicia. At what speed the Russian steam roller is approaching we do not know, but it appears as if Austrian resistance were becoming tenuous as the Russian advance continues.

HUGE TAX PAID TO WISCONSIN

Estate of Late "Silent" Smith Contributes $25,000 for His Holdings in C. M. & St. P.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 22.—The state treasury was enriched by $25,000 today as the result of a persistent investigation which has been carried on for some time past by John Harrington, inheritance tax counsel for the state. The money was paid by the administrators of the estate of James Henry ("Silent") Smith estate. The money was paid by C. H. Poppenhusen of Chicago into court. Poppenhusen was the attorney for the administrators of the estate.

Smith died in March, 1907, at Tuxedo Park, N. Y. Most of his estate was left to two nephews, William Smith Mason and Grant Smith Mason of Chicago. One of the nephews was married to a former Green Bay girl. The tax was levied upon the holding of Smith in the properties of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. The tax has been the subject of a long investigation and many conferences and was finally settled by the payment of a $25,000 tax.

tent has been pitched in which they will be taken care of.

The police department will have a corps of patrolmen guarding the grounds each day. A special station has been provided in the administration building.

The exposition building will attract the women. Everything pertaining to the home and its making is there. Many local firms have booths, and many have exhibitions from other cities.

High School There

The La Crosse high school is represented at the Interstate fair by a booth containing exhibits of the various branches of high school work. The booth is in the south wing of the fine arts building. Some of the articles on exhibit are: An office desk, filing cabinet, draughting bench, dining room chair, sectional cabinet, two library tables, sectional bookcase and a large book cabinet (manual training exhibit); patterns for an anvil, a wheel, brackets for locker room, benches, grates for high school boilers, and many other small articles. Besides these articles there are plaques of turned articles, small forged pieces, and candlesticks, napkin rings, towel holders, goblets, Indian clubs, dumb bells and other small useful things about the house. The booth is decorated with the high school colors, red and black bunting, and a number of banners and high school relics.

TRAVELERS DISAPPOINTED.

Commercial traveling men were a disappointed lot here this morning when they learned business houses were closed for the fair.

WAR ODDITIES

DRESDEN—Divine service may be held in English here but prayers for success of British arms are taboo.

PARIS.—The son of Chief Mokrani, leader of the Algerian insurrection in 1871 against French authority, has volunteered to organize and lead a corps to fight with the French against Germany.

ALDERSHOT.—A star on the championship regimental Rugby team in the army, who fought at Mons, wrote to a friend, "I want a few more Sundays like Brock's benefit outside Mons. It was better than any Rugby game I ever played in."

LONDON.—Because of the increased correspondence at Buckingham palace, due directly to the war, a special order for stationery amounting to 200 pounds has been necessary. The increased cost of the palace stationery is about $100 a week.

PARIS.—Fifteen hundred of the taxicabs of Paris are being used exclusively for the transfer of ammunition from one army wing to another at the front.

MISSIONARIES TO TELL OF WORK

Rev. and Mrs. Edgar E. Strother, joint secretaries of the United Society of Christian Endeavor of America in China, will speak tonight in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church.

KING ALBERT SHOOTS CHAUFFEUR WHO TRIED TO CAUSE CAPTURE

PARIS, Sept. 22.—King Albert of the Belgians escaped capture by the Germans recently only by shooting the chauffeur, who was driving him rapidly toward the German lines, according to the newspaper Progress Du Nord, published in Lille.

Describing the narrow escape of the king, the paper declares the incident occurred while his majesty was making a tour of inspection of the Belgian forts. He noticed that his chauffeur was taking him near the German lines and ordered him to stop. Instead, the chauffeur put on full speed and headed straight for the enemy. King Albert drew his revolver and shot the chauffeur dead. Papers were found on his body showing that the Germans had promised him $200,000 if he was successful in delivering the king into their hands.

To tell the best—the kind that affords the biggest money's worth and most satisfaction to the consumer—is easy for the old miller or food expert.

But the purchaser who doesn't know, must be protected. That is why the producers of the very finest Corn Flakes didn't call them "Jones' Corn Flakes" or "Smith's Corn Flakes."

These Superior Corn Flakes were given a name that is distinctive—

Post Toasties

The average housekeeper has, likely enough, tried some of the various "Corn Flakes" on the market. To realize the perfection of taste in toasted Indian corn—cooked, rolled and seasoned with sugar and salt just as it ought to be—one should order Post Toasties.

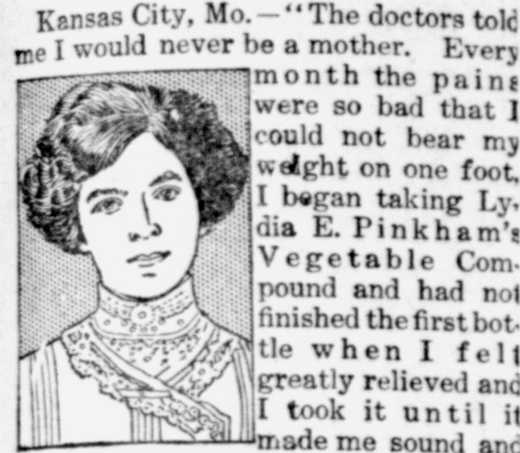

These famous Corn Flakes have been the favorite for years among chefs and food connoisseurs. They come ready to eat in sealed packages with an Inside Container that keeps this delicious food crisp, fresh and clean for the table. And the price is no higher than the cost of ordinary kinds.

MRS. WINN'S
ADVICE TO WOMEN

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be Restored to Health.

Kansas City, Mo.—"The doctors told me I would never be a mother. Every month the pains were so bad that I could not bear my weight on one foot. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had not finished the first bottle when I felt greatly relieved and I took it until it made me sound and well, and I now have two fine baby girls. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for what it has done for me. I always speak a word in favor of your medicine to other women who suffer when I have an opportunity."

—Mrs. H. T. WINN, 1225 Fremont Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Read What Another Woman Says:

Cumming, Ga.—"I tell some suffering woman every day of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it has done for me. I could not eat or sleep, had a bad stomach and was in misery all the time. I could not do my housework or walk any distance without suffering great pain. I tried doctors' medicines and different patent medicines but failed to get relief. My husband brought home your Vegetable Compound and in two weeks I could eat anything, could sleep like a healthy baby, and walk a long distance without feeling tired. I can highly recommend your Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did, and you are at liberty to use this letter."

PULLS ONE TRAIN
FOR FORTY YEARS

John Barker Has Spent Nearly Half Century Without Derailment on Dubuque-La Crosse Run

MCGREGOR, Iowa, Sept. 22.—Forty-one years on the same run without a derailment is the record of Engineer Barker of the Dubuque division of the Milwaukee road.

May 11, 1871, the rails were laid on the river line as far as McGregor and the first locomotive rounded the hill and sent its shrill whistle echoing up to the joyful crowd of McGregor people who had gathered to welcome it. It was pulling the construction train which was to carry the line north along the Mississippi river from this point. The young engineer who leaned out of the cab window and called a smiling, "Here we are," was John Barker.

That was forty-three years ago. Today and every day excepting Sundays for forty-one years that same John Barker has been at the throttle when the Dubuque-La Crosse day train has pulled into McGregor. He is no longer young but his smile as he leans forth from the cab window is no less pleasant than it was that day in May, forty-three years ago.

When through service was installed between Dubuque and La Crosse, Mr. Barker was given the run. He has held it continuously since going up one day and down the next every day week in and week out for forty-one years, or something like 13,000 times in all.

The first train was a combination passenger and freight and required eight hours to make the run between Dubuque and La Crosse which is now covered in less than half that time.

Mr. Barker has a record which probably can double discount that of any other engineer on the Milwaukee system. Not only has he pulled the same train for over forty years but in that long period he has never had a derailment. The record is especially remarkable when it is considered that the river road is conceded to be one of the most crooked of the Milwaukee lines.

NEW HOME STRUCK
AND HURT BY BOLT

Otto Hermanson's House at Trempealeau Is Badly Damaged by Lightning

TREMPEALEAU, Wis., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—The new home of Otto Hermanson on Third street was struck by lightning and damaged to the amount of five hundred dollars last night. The lightning entered from the rear of the house, tearing off the siding and splintering studding and lath on the inside. It seemed to follow the electric light wires through the house. Nearly every room had lath and plaster torn off. Luckily no one was in the house at the time. Mr. Hermanson's people were at one of the neighbors. The house is a modern new home and has just been finished. Mr. Hermanson moving in about a week ago.

SPOTLIGHTS

"A MODERN EVE"

"A hit, a palpable hit. Such was 'A Modern Eve' as presented at the Metropolitan theater Tuesday evening. That is the opinion of those who were present to derive pleasure from attendance at this meritorious operetta. The play gets a good start at the rise of the curtain and its vim and dash and snap gradually work toward the superlative, each incident of the musical play being more interesting and catchy than the one which preceded it, until when the court room scene is reached, those home folks down there on the unilluminated side of the footlights must needs hold to their sides to still the dangerous tide of laughter which is arising within them.

"But then, there is the music, all catchy and several songs are decidedly bidding for wide popularity, such as 'Hello Sweetheart,' 'Good Bye Everybody,' 'Is the Girl You Married Still the Girl You Love,' etc.

"The cast is remarkably well balanced, each character being portrayed exceptionally well. The scenery is good and the costumes spick and span. The chorus was good. 'A Modern Eve' is a bright show in every way. Rochester gave it a packed house. That's what it should get everywhere it goes."

Will be seen at the La Crosse theater Wednesday and Thursday, September 23 and 24.

MAY BEAT ARISTOCRAT

BAYSIDE, L. I., Sept. 22.—Bayside society is all "het up" because it looks as though Miss Catherine Reade will be chosen as queen of the autumn carnival and be a victor over Miss Van Sicklen. Miss Reade's papa doesn't own a villa; he wears overalls and tools. Miss May Van Sicklen's father is a member of one of Long Island's most exclusive families. Some of the society element hinted to Miss Reade that she had better withdraw, but the young lady said she guessed she'd stay. The townspeople are giving her their votes.

TOMAH'S WATER
TOWER IS SAFE

Fears for Its Collapse Are Unfounded According to Report of Chicago Engineer

TOMAH, Wis., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—There is no danger of the collapse of the city water tower. This is the gist of a report furnished to the school board by a Chicago engineer, employed to examine the structure, following the circulation of rumors to the effect that it was unsafe. He declares the tower is in good condition.

Milwaukee Fair Exhibits Exhibits from the state fair at Milwaukee are being received in Tomah and placed in position at the fair grounds, for the opening. The exhibits are mainly of poultry, horses and stock of other varieties.

The Studebaker—An Investment

The Studebaker is a profitable investment. The Studebaker is a profitable investment because of the splendid reputation of the great company which manufactures it. A second-hand Studebaker can be sold after a year, after two years, or after many years of service at a price which is very high in relation to its first cost.

The buyer knows that the name Studebaker for over fifty years has stood for honesty and fairness. He knows that Studebaker Automobiles today, are manufactured in one of the largest and most complete automobile factories in the world, and that Studebaker heat treated steels, Studebaker standards of accuracy, and Studebaker efficiency of manufacturing methods, make Studebaker cars the highest quality cars on the market for the money.

He knows that the Studebaker car is beautifully simple in its construction—every part is accessible—in inspection and repairs can be made with the least possible expense.

He knows that there will always be Studebaker service back of his car, that he can always obtain repair parts at the lowest possible cost in the shortest possible time.

Studebaker is represented reliably in every town, every village and every city of importance in the country. The sign of Studebaker is as well known and as easy to find as the postoffice—

These are the reasons why Studebaker cars have such a high resale value.

Special Studebaker Features:

Full floating rear axles. Complete Timken bearing equipment. An always reliable electric starter and electric lighting system. The highest possible ratio of power to weight. The small bore, long stroke, economical Studebaker motor—economical in fuel, economical in lubricating oil.

Beautifully finished bodies, made and finished by Studebaker twenty filling, coloring and varnishing operations. Uniform excellence of chassis and motor manufacture in the great Detroit plants—Studebaker makes more of its parts than any other manufacturer.

Unexcelled laboratory and engineering resources, where steel is scientifically developed and where special heat treating processes are formulated for use in the manufacture of Studebaker gears, shafts, axles, etc. Beautifully crown fenders of extra heavy gauge steel, with enamel baked in.

MARRY HERE TO ESCAPE THE WAR

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 22.—Miss Flora Marcott of Paris, France, is today rushing toward this country, to be married to Douglas B. Murray, formerly of Lancashire, Scotland. The date of their wedding is set for September 28, at Montreal. Murray is a reservist and since he has only his first naturalization papers, considered cupid before Krupp guns, and decided to bring his bride here rather than attempt to have the wedding performed abroad.

GUARD FOREIGN EMBASSIES

ROME, Sept. 21.—Guards were today placed about the Austrian and German embassies and every precaution taken to prevent any demonstration against the envoys of these two countries. The cabinet held an all night session at which it is expected the position to be taken by Italy was discussed. No statement was issued at the conclusion of the conference.

All American cities are now taking on a more or less warlike spirit. The wives who have been away for the summer are returning home.

Tightens Her Skin—Loses Her Wrinkles

"I want to tell you how easily I got rid of my wrinkles," writes Lovella Marsh. "While in London a friend, much envied because of her youthful looks, gave me a formula for a home-made preparation which has the effect of instantly tightening the skin, thus smoothing out wrinkles and furrows. The principal ingredient is powdered salolite, which can be had at drug stores here. An ounce of salolite is dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. After bathing my face in this but once the transformation was so marvelous I looked years younger. Even the deep crow's feet were affected, and the annoying creases about my neck. It seems difficult to believe anything could produce such results. Several to whom I recommended the recipe have been similarly helped. WILSON TO BE AT GOVERNOR'S MEET

President Expected at Conference of Executives to Be Held in Madison Soon

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 22.—President Wilson is expected to attend the meeting of the governors' conference which will be held in Madison on November 10 to 14. The western governors at this meeting will present their case against federal control of natural resources within the states, and for this reason are anxious that President Wilson attend and counsel and confer with them.

It is customary for the president to attend the annual meeting of the governors or to be represented at the meeting by a member of his cabinet or some other member of his administration. President Wilson was represented at the last meeting of the governors held at Colorado Springs, Colo., by Hon. Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior.

President Wilson while governor of New Jersey was an active member of the conference.

Great interest is being taken by the governors in the coming meeting. The program is almost completed. The subject of rural credit will be discussed with a view of recommending a system for the different states. The necessity for uniformity of safety and sanitation laws for places of employment will also be discussed.

Many new governors will attend this year. The terms of thirty-one present executives will expire, the latter part of this or the early part of next year. Their successors will be elected on Nov. 3. Only seventeen of the thirty-one whose terms expire are candidates for re-election. Four of the fourteen who are not seeking re-election are candidates for the United States senate.

Four days of the coming meeting will be spent in Madison and one day in Milwaukee. While in Milwaukee, the members of the conference and their parties will be the guests of the chamber of commerce, Citizens' Business League and Merchants' and Manufacturers' association.

BELGIUM BIG SWAMP.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 22.—A deluge of rain during the past two days has turned Belgium into a veritable swamp, according to word received today from Antwerp. General military operations involving the transport of any considerable body of troops have halted because of the state of the highways. There is almost continuous fighting, however, between small forces of Belgians and Germans.

OLD PONTOON IS SOLD AT AUCTION

Toll Bridge Owner Buys Discarded Part of McGregor Bridge for Repairs to His Structure

M'GREGOR, Iowa, Sept. 22.—(Special.)—The old pontoon which was removed from the east draw of the Prairie du Chien-McGregor bridge several weeks ago to give place to the new structure was sold at auction Saturday. J. Lathrop of Bridgeport bidding it in. Mr. Lathrop owns a toll wagon bridge across the Wisconsin river at Bridgeport and it is expected he will wreck the pontoon and use the parts for repairs on the toll bridge.

River Rises
Following the recent rains the Mississippi has been rising rapidly at this point and is again high enough almost to cover the government dams in front of town. The seine fishing is good at present. The government fish agent at North McGregor, who has had a crew engaged for several weeks in rescuing young fish from the land locked ponds has temporarily abandoned the work on account of the rise.

Bring Back Body
The body of Mrs. May Barnett, who for many years was in the millinery business at McGregor, was brought from Clinton, Iowa, to Prairie du Chien for burial Saturday. Since she left here twenty years ago Mrs. Barnett has been conducting a millinery establishment at Clinton in partnership with her sister, Miss Mary Doyle. She had been ill since last February. Her brother, James Doyle of North McGregor, her sisters, Mrs. John Doyle of Mason City, Ia., Mrs. W. Sloane of North McGregor, and Miss Mary Doyle of Clinton, and a niece, Mrs. Martin Moleyn of Dubuque, brought the body to Prairie du Chien.

Have Overflow Garage
Blaker & Brown moved the last of the week into the new garage which has been built out of the Hotel livey stable, and are now doing business at both establishments. The upper buildings will be used for the storing of new cars and as a garage for the overflow from the lower establishment.

Chops Son's Fingers
D. Benville Witter, the eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Witter of Summit Hill, had three fingers of his left hand badly lacerated Saturday afternoon while helping his father cut wood. He was holding a stick in place on a stump when the axe slipped, cutting across three fingers. The second finger was nearly severed from the hand.

Personals
Mr. W. F. Daubenberger left Tuesday for a two weeks' hunting vacation on the "Churn Ranch" near Merriam, Neb. The ranch is thirty miles from a railroad and one of the largest remaining in western Nebraska. It is managed by Mr. Shadbolt, a former resident of McGregor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gebhart arrived the last of the week from Los Angeles, Cal., and are visiting Mr. Gebhart's sister, Mrs. Richard Turner and other relatives.

F. Allen, wife and children will move to McGregor from Pontiac, Mich. They have rented the residence on Ann street owned by Mrs. Deery.

John Anderson has purchased the William Gussman property on Garavillo avenue. Mr. Anderson is a new arrival in town. He recently bought the E. N. Rice residence on Walton avenue and moved into it from his farm on Pleasant Ridge.

Rev. T. C. Nielsen, pastor of the Methodist church, accompanied by his wife, left in his car Tuesday for Cedar Rapids to attend the Upper Iowa Methodist conference. Mrs. Nielsen will visit her mother at Mt. Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Fox and children and Mrs. Charles Fox of Austin, Minn., came from Austin, Minn., in their car Friday, remaining the guest of relatives until Monday.

The Dead Larks.

In Baluchistan even the wolves go mad. In his book, "The Frontiers of Baluchistan," G. P. Tate writes: "The shepherds give a strange reason for the epidemic of rabies. According to them, it was caused by the wild beasts eating dead larks. In some years, they said, the larks develop extraordinary vitality and pour forth such a flood of songs as they rise on the wing that they become suffocated and fall to the ground dead. A wild animal which eats one of these dead birds invariably develops rabies. This is a widespread superstition and seems not unfamiliar to the natives of India who were with me."

Greatest Fleet of History.

The largest mobilization of warships in all history was certainly that accomplished by Xerxes before the battle of Salamis. According to the detailed figures given by Herodotus, he mustered 1,207 battleships—triremes, or ships of war, with three banks of oars. Each of these carried a crew of 200 rowers and thirty fighting men. There were also 3,000 smaller vessels of war and transports, averaging eighty men each. A further 120 triremes afterward joined. Herodotus may even have understated the figures, since Aeschylus gives 1,207 triremes as the number present at the battle, and 647 had already been lost or destroyed.—London Opinion.

CASE UNDER "SISTER" LAW

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 22.—The first decision of one of the "seven sisters" laws was rendered here when Judge Mark A. Sullivan, in the common pleas court of Hudson county, dismissed a complaint charging discrimination by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, with intent to create a monopoly. The Standard Oil company was alleged to have granted discriminatory rates on gasoline, the complaint being brought by the Crew-Levick Oil company. Judge Sullivan held that the evidence did not justify the charge.

WAR ENDS EXILE

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—After living in exile for almost twenty years, Baron Von Welden, once an officer of Hussars, in Austria, who now lives at Greyhound lodge, Montclair Heights, today is planning to return to his native country and join the Austrian Red Cross troops. Emperor Franz Joseph's order restoring all political exiles to citizenships permits him to return to Austria. Von Welden, who is well over fifty, expects to sell all his property here at auction at once and sail for Austria.

In accordance with Section 1, of Article XII of the constitution of the State of Wisconsin, and Chapter 770 of the Laws of 1913, the following Joint Resolutions adopted by the legislature of the State of Wisconsin at the regular sessions of 1911 and 1913 are made a part of the foregoing notice and are to be voted upon at said election, to-wit:

(Jt. Res. No. 9, A.)
Joint Resolution No. 12.

To add section 13 to article VIII of the Constitution, relating to state insurance.

Whereas, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year of 1911, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That there be added to Article VIII of the State constitution a new section to read:

Section 13. The state may grant insurance upon such risks and in such manner as may be prescribed by law, and the limitations or restrictions provided in the constitution shall not apply to this subject, but provision shall be made for annual accounting for all liabilities assumed, and for the separation and safeguarding of all funds and property held by the state on account of any such insurance; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the State of Wisconsin, be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted, this amendment will confer upon the legislature express power to enact legislation providing for state insurance.)

(Jt. Res. No. 18, S.)
Joint Resolution No. 15.

To amend Article XIII of the constitution, providing for the recall of public officers.

Whereas, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1911, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That article XIII of the constitution be amended by adding thereto a new section to read:

Section 12. The legislature shall provide for the removal by call from office, by the qualified electors of the electoral district in which any officer is elected, of every public officer in the state of Wisconsin holding an elective office, except judicial officers; now, therefore be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted this amendment will enable the legislature to pass a law providing for the recall of all officers, including elective constitutional officers, but not including judicial officers.)

(Jt. Res. No. 22, S.)
Joint Resolution No. 17.

To amend section 1, article XIII, of the constitution providing for the submission of amendments to the constitution by the legislature by a three-fifths vote of the members elected.

Whereas, at the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1911, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That section 1 of article XIII of the constitution be amended to read:

Section 1. Any amendment or amendments to this constitution may be proposed in either house of the legislature, and if the same shall be agreed to by three-fifths of the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, the same shall be published for three months before the next general election and shall be submitted to the qualified electors at such election; and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments by a majority of the electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the constitution, provided that if more than one amendment be submitted, they shall be submitted in such manner that the people may vote for or against such amendments separately; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted, this amendment will change the method of amending the constitution so that amendments may be adopted by an affirmative vote of three-fifths of the members elected to both houses of one legislature and approval by the people, instead of by a majority vote of both houses of two succeeding legislatures and approval by the people as now required.)

(Jt. Res. No. 19, S.)
Joint Resolution No. 21.

To create section 3a, of article XI, of the constitution relating to powers of cities and villages.

Whereas, at the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1911, an amendment to the constitution was proposed, and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That there be added after section 3, of article XI, of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin, a new section to read:

(Article XI) 3a. Cities and villages shall have power and authority to amend their charters, and to frame and adopt new charters, and to enact all laws and ordinances relating to their municipal affairs, subject to the constitution and general laws of the state; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin, be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted, this amendment will change the provisions of the Constitution which vest the power to make laws exclusively in the Senate and Assembly, so that the people may directly and on their own initiative enact laws and may reject laws passed by the legislature.)

Be it further resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That article XII of the constitution, be amended by creating a new section to read:

Section 3. 1. a. Any senator or member of the assembly may introduce, by presenting to the chief clerk in the house in which he is a member, in open session, at any time during any session of the legislature, any proposed amendment to the constitution or any amendment to any such proposed amendment to the constitution; provided that the time for so introducing a proposed amendment to the constitution may be limited by rule to not less than thirty legislative days.

b. The chief clerk shall make a record of such proposed amendment to the constitution and any amendment thereto and have the same printed.

2. Any proposed amendment to the constitution shall be recited in full in the petition and shall consist of an amendment which has been introduced in the legislature during the first thirty legislative days, and so introduced, or, at the option of the petitioners, there may be incorporated therein any amendment or amendments thereto introduced in the legislature. Such amendment to the constitution and amendments thereto shall be referred to by number in the petition. Upon petition filed not later than four months before the next general election, such proposed amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the people, and shall become a law if it is approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon and shall take effect and be in force from and after thirty days after the election at which it is approved.

3. a. No law enacted by the legislature, except an emergency law, shall take effect before ninety days after its passage and publication. If within said ninety days there shall have been filed a petition to submit to a vote of the people such law or any part thereof, such law or such part thereof shall not take effect until thirty days after its approval by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon.

b. An emergency law shall remain in force, notwithstanding such petition, but shall stand repealed thirty days after being rejected by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon.

c. An emergency law shall be any law declared by the legislature to be necessary for its immediate purpose by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house voting thereon, entered on their journals by the yeas and nays. No law making any appropriation for maintaining the state government or maintaining or aiding any public institution, not exceeding the next previous appropriation for the same purpose, shall be subject to rejection or repeal under this section. The increase in any such appropriation shall only take effect in case of other laws, and such increase, or any part thereof, specified in the petition may be referred to a vote of the people upon petition.

5. If measures which conflict with each other in any of their essential provisions are submitted at the same election, only the measure receiving the highest number of votes shall stand as the enactment of the people.

6. The petition shall be filed with the secretary of state and shall be sufficient to require the submission by him of a measure to the people when signed by eight per cent of the qualified electors calculated upon the whole number of votes cast for governor at the last preceding election, of whom not more than one-half shall be residents of any one county.

7. The vote upon measures referred to the people shall be taken at the next election occurring not less than four months after the filing of the petition, and held generally throughout the state pursuant to law or specially called by the governor.

8. The legislature shall provide for furnishing electors the text of all measures to be voted upon by the people.

9. Except that measures specifically affecting a subdivision of the state may be submitted to the people by that subdivision, the legislature shall submit measures to the people only as required by the constitution.

NOTE. (If adopted this amendment will change the provisions of the Constitution which vest the power to make laws exclusively in the Senate and Assembly, so that the people may directly and on their own initiative enact laws and may reject laws passed by the legislature.)

Be it further resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That article XII of the constitution, be amended by creating a new section to read:

Section 3. 1. a. Any senator or member of the assembly may introduce, by presenting to the chief clerk in the house in which he is a member, in open session, at any time during any session of the legislature, any proposed amendment to the constitution or any amendment to any such proposed amendment to the constitution; provided that the time for so introducing a proposed amendment to the constitution may be limited by rule to not less than thirty legislative days.

b. The chief clerk shall make a record of such proposed amendment to the constitution and any amendment thereto and have the same printed.

2. Any proposed amendment to the constitution shall be recited in full in the petition and shall consist of an amendment which has been introduced in the legislature during the first thirty legislative days, and so introduced, or, at the option of the petitioners, there may be incorporated therein any amendment or amendments thereto introduced in the legislature. Such amendment to the constitution and amendments thereto shall be referred to by number in the petition. Upon petition filed not later than four months before the next general election, such proposed amendment shall be submitted to the people.

3. The petition shall be filed with the secretary of state and shall be sufficient to require the submission by him of a proposed amendment to the constitution to the people when signed by ten per cent of the qualified electors, calculated upon the whole number of votes cast for governor at the last preceding election, of whom not more than one-half shall be residents of any one county.

4. Any proposed amendment or amendments to this constitution, agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses of the legislature, shall be entered on their journals with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and be submitted to the people by the secretary of state upon petition filed with him signed by five per cent of the qualified electors, calculated upon the whole number of votes cast for governor at the last preceding election, of whom not more than one-half shall be residents of any one county.

5. The legislature shall provide for furnishing the electors the text of all amendments to the constitution to be voted upon by the people.

6. If the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments by a majority of the electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the constitution, from and after the election at which approved; provided that if more than one amendment be submitted they shall be submitted in such manner that the people may vote for or against such amendments separately.

7. If proposed amendments to the constitution which conflict with each other in any of their essential provisions are submitted at the same election, only the proposed amendment receiving the highest number of votes shall become a part of the constitution; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted this amendment will require the legislature upon petition, to submit Constitutional amendments to the people for adoption or rejection.)

(Jt. Res. No. 8, A.)
Joint Resolution No. 24.

To amend section 21, of article IV, of the constitution, relating to compensation of members of the legislature.

Whereas, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1911, an amendment to the constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That section 21, of article IV, of the constitution, be amended to read:

Section 21. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his services the sum of six hundred dollars per annum, and two cents for every mile he shall travel in going to and returning from the place of meeting of the legislature on the most usual route. In case of an extra session of the legislature, no additional compensation shall be allowed to any member thereof, either directly or indirectly, except for mileage, to be computed at the same rate as for a regular session. No newspapers, postage or other perquisites, except the salary and mileage above provided, shall be received from the state by any member of the legislature for his services or in any other manner as such member; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the State of Wisconsin, be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this legislature.

NOTE. (If adopted, this amendment will increase the compensation of members of the legislature from $500 for each regular session to $600 per annum, and to reduce their traveling allowance from ten cents a mile to two cents a mile.)

HAL PLUMMER NEW ATHLETIC LEADER

Byers Retires as President of Normal Athletic Association; Miss Boynton Vice President

Harold Plummer was elected president of the Normal Athletic association, succeeding Marcus Byers, at a meeting yesterday in general assembly. Miss Ruth Boynton was chosen vice president, and Leif Schreiner, secretary. The treasurer will be appointed later by the faculty.

Byers presided over the meeting previous to the election of the new president. The remaining officers were filed in order.

The president announced that by order of the board of regents, every student of the normal school should become a member of the athletic association. Every member is required to purchase a ticket upon enrollment, entitling him to all athletic contests.

The various organizations of the normal are forming slowly. The band and orchestra have organized and are practicing daily. A few new candidates have been admitted in each organization. The football squad is soon to be thinned by Coach Carter and heavy drill commenced at once in preparation for the first game with St. Mary's at Winona on October 10.

BADGERS HAVE FIRST DRILL

Coaches Juneau, Jones and Wilson Have Men Out Yesterday; Mucks Appears in Ranks

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—With but two weeks in which to develop and drill a football team to meet Lawrence college Coaches Juneau, Wilson and Jones started work yesterday. This was the official opening day although most of the candidates for the team have been out for a week.

Practically all the men who will represent the cardinal on the gridiron this year were out yesterday although a few stragglers will show up between now and Thursday. Arlie Mucks, the Oshkosh giant, augmented the ranks considerably by his appearance. He has been working hard this summer and is in swell trim.

Coach Tom Jones had his freshmen out last night and put them through a rudimentary drill. Jones is anxious to develop a combination with all possible speed in order to scrimmage with the varsity and in that way give Juneau's team the practice it will be greatly in need of in the opening game.

Wilson will take charge of the line immediately. From the present outlook the Badger line will be one of the best the school has had in years. Wilson is expected to make it the finished product the 1912 defense was. Coach Juneau, assisted by "Keg" Driver will put in their hard Hicks with the backfield, where the greatest need of bolstering is apparent. If a driving combination can be made here the Badgers are expected to give Chicago a wonderful race for conference honors.

TAX COMMISSION MEETS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 22.—The state tax commission is holding its final conferences this week on the state assessment. All of the data has been compiled and the assessment will probably be announced in the next ten days.

HORNE PUTS MEN IN DAILY GRIND

High School Football Candidates in Hard Work-outs; Work Before the Fair

The high school football squad will put in the afternoon of the present week in practice. As school dismisses at noon, the men will be requested to return in the afternoon for the daily grind instead of "taking in the fair." The men are showing up very well at present and there are excellent chances for their making a good record this year.

The line will be strong, averaging probably between one hundred and forty-five and one hundred and fifty pounds. The backfield will also be heavy and fast. The men are doing good backfield work. The favorite candidates are Fay, Zeisler, Regert, Feinberg, Kelly, Roellig and Horner. With this squad there is no doubt that a fast, strong back line will be developed.

BADGER MEN IN LIGHT PRACTICE

Keeler Leads Squad in Easy Workout; It Is Reported that Lawrence Star Will Enter

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 22.—Punting, forward passing, and a general limbering up and wind gaining practice was the work mapped out for the Badger football squad by Capt. Tubby Keeler for Friday afternoon. Candidates are arriving every day, but there are still a dozen or more prospects expected. Pottinger, star center on Lawrence last year, has asked for his credits from the Appleton school, and if rumors are correct he will enter the university and should prove valuable to Coach Jungeau in the scrimmages in preparation for the Wisconsin-Lawrence game on October 3, the first struggle on the Badger schedule.

There have been expressions of hope among the student body that Louis Berger, crack Cardinal half on the 1912 championship eleven, would return to school, but these have been shattered by the announcement from Chicago that the former Wisconsin star has reported to Capt. Shorty Desjardins of the Maroons, who is conducting the preliminary work of Stag's squad on the Midway.

In basket ball and cross country in which the Badgers rank foremost in the big Nine, there will be a good deal of scouting done, as there are only two veterans of last year's perfect score five who will return. Dr. W. E. Meanwell, the leading basket ball coach in the country, has returned from his vacation in the east and is on the lookout for material that he may develop to fill the three places now vacant.

Head baseball coach, Slim Lewis, is also in Madison, and as he has been in conference with Athletic Director Ehler, it is quite probable that he will handle the 1915 nine.

Flippant.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD BY HAL SHERIDAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Boston Braves are now pointed for a head-on collision with the Athletics in the big tussle which will open on or about October 10.

At the Polo grounds there appears to be a fair assortment of bats, gloves, a playing field and grandstand, but little else when it comes down to considering possibilities of the Giants unshoring the Braves from the four game lead they now have in the dash toward the National league flag.

Rube Marquard started against the Cubs yesterday, and aided by his team mates, disappointed no one. He was consistent and when the shadows began to fall was credited with his eleventh straight defeat. Fromme relieved Marquard in the third inning. "Hooks" Wiltse went the final two rounds without being killed by Zimmerman or Archer.

The Giants could do nothing with Vaughn. Errors by Doyle and Grant, together with Merkle's over running of a roller from Good's bat helped along the Cubs. Good's tap went for a double.

In the meantime the Braves maintained the gait they have shown since July, that gait including the operation of grabbing each series that appears on the schedule. Rudolph was a little shaky and the Pirates came within one of knotting the score. But they didn't tie things up and the six runs scored by Boston in the first four innings were enough to win.

SPARTA HIGHS TO MEET MONDOVI

Second Football Game of Season Will Be Played Saturday at Sparta

SPARTA, Wis., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—Sparta High will play its second football game at the fair grounds next Saturday when they meet Mondovi's eleven.

Mondovi had a strong team last year, holding Chippewa Falls to a tie. This year it is claimed their team is faster. It is known to be heavier than Sparta's eleven.

A week from Saturday Winona will meet Sparta at Sparta.

Plan Other Games. Negotiations are in progress to schedule games with Chippewa Falls, Oshkosh and Milwaukee, although nothing definite has been decided. It is expected that two of these three games will be played at Sparta.

Locals and Personals. Mr. Amos Mann is enjoying a few days at his work.

George Rickerman of Pinestone, Minn., is visiting Mr. Albert Frohmader.

Miss Mabel Doyle is spending a few days with friends in Tomah.

Misses Katherine Madden, Gertrude Madden and Kathryn Doliver have returned from a short trip to La Crosse.

George Grossman returned to Sparta after spending the week end with his wife and daughter at West-bye.

Joe Erickson is spending a few days with his parents.

Mr. C. V. Fitch went to Cataract yesterday noon.

Herbert Sherwin left yesterday for Beloit where he will attend school for the coming school year.

Mr. C. V. Lowery, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. Paul O. Austin for several days returned to his home in Minneapolis this morning.

Mrs. Lowery will remain for another week.

Just One Thing After Another. Hub—I've given up drinking, smoking and golf to please you. Still you're not satisfied. Now what else do you want me to give up? Wife—Well, you might give up $50. I need a new gown.—Boston Transcript.

THE AUTHOR KNOWS WHAT'S WHAT

NOBODY wants to put a big, bulgy wad of tobacco in his cheek.

All around you, men are using "Right-Cut"—the Real Tobacco Chew. And telling their friends about it, of course—just like you'd tell your friends about a thing that brings so much comfort.

"Right-Cut" is pure, rich, full-bodied tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

HARRY TRACY TO MANAGE ALLEYS

Former La Crosse Ball Player Will Manage Alleys for Mique Malloy

The bowling season is on and the new bowling alleys will open in La Crosse as soon as the men can lay the alleys in the building at 124 and 126 North Third street, which has been remodeled. There is a cafe and billiard hall on the first floor, and bowling alleys will occupy the second floor. There will be five of the latest and very best bowling alleys.

Harry Tracey, former La Crosse first baseman, will manage the new alleys. Mique Malloy of Chicago, has engaged him and he will arrive in a few days. Tracey is well known in La Crosse, especially to the baseball fans. He filled Ed Konetchy's place after Ed was sold to St. Louis. Harry has been playing ball with Oshkosh, having been one of the players who went to Oshkosh from La Crosse when the Minny league disbanded. In this deal Killian got Joe Kernan, Watson, Klein and Tracey. Since playing with Oshkosh, Harry Tracey has helped Killian and three straight pennants.

Malloy is fortunate in getting Tracey, as he is an expert bowler and has handled alleys before. Mique is unable at present to come to La Crosse as his contract with the Federal league runs until February. I know Mr. Tracey will see that the Bowlers in La Crosse are taken care of, and that the alleys will be kept in first class shape, announced Mr. Malloy.

SAYS HE KILLED TO GET REVENGE

GREAT BEND, Sept. 22.—Intimating that twenty years before Lee Morgan had wronged his mother and sister, "Tommie" White, 21, confessed that he and a friend killed Morgan, Mayme McQuillen, Morgan's sister-in-law, and a farm hand, McGugin, according to the county authorities. White said he regretted the killing of McGugin, but it was necessary as he would have recognized them. Officials did not make public the name of White's accomplice.

"Dye ken Mac fell in the river on his way home last night?" "You don't mean to say he was drowned?" "Not drowned, mon, but badly diluted."—London Opinion.

They Do, Indeed. "What kind of leather makes the best shoes?" "Don't know, but banana skins make good slippers."

SEE that firm, white ash. Does it prove anything? Yes.

Its snowy color shows high quality in the tobacco. Its firmness proves skilled hand workmanship and a long, clean filler.

A long, firm ash is one of the mild Tom Moore's leading characteristics. The other is—that mellow, rich aroma which we have never yet been able to put into words.

Chicago Grain Review
CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Despite bullish foreign news and sales for export totalling nearly one million bushels, wheat declined steadily from the start today, and at noon September was 1 1/2c under last night's close and the deferred months showed losses of 2 to 2 1/2 cents as compared with last night's figures. Increasing stocks in every quarter was the bear fact or that outweighed bullish foreign news.

Corn was easier from the start with little demand in evidence. September futures lost half and the deferred months one cent each.

Oats sympathized with the other grains and suffered a decline of 1/2 to 3/4c for the deferred months. September was inactive in the forenoon. Provisions were very dull and slightly lower on account of an easier feeling in hogs.

Wheat got lower in the afternoon, losing 3-4 for Sept. and 1-2c for the deferred months. Corn futures eased off a shade from the noon prices and the feeling in orders was a shade easier. Pork weakened gradually until the close.

CALLED GREATEST HERO OF THE WAR

(c) Underwood & Underwood.

Private J. J. Rousseau of the Fourth Belgian Chasseurs.

Proclaimed as the greatest hero of the war, for his daring capture of Count von Buelow, the son of the German chancellor, Private J. J. Rousseau of the Fourth Belgian Chasseurs is now enjoying the favors and glories usually heaped upon a hero. He is wearing the military gold cross presented to him by the Belgian king in recognition of his valor, and is to be the recipient of the Order of Leopold, equivalent to the British Victoria Cross.

BLAME FRENCH FOR RHEIMS DESTRUCTION

BERLIN, via The Hague, Sept. 22.—The German newspapers, usually officially inspired, today place the responsibility for the bombardment of the cathedral at Rheims squarely on the French. They allege that the French, disregarding the sacredness of the edifice so closely allied with France's history, deliberately mounted guns not only near but actually on the cathedral.

One of Field's Jokes.

Edward Everett Hale greatly enjoyed a joke which was perpetrated on him by Eugene Field. Field celebrated one of Dr. Hale's visits to Chicago by giving a luncheon in his honor and inviting a number of prominent persons to meet him. "Field was aware," said Dr. Hale, "that I was a temperance man, and therefore I was somewhat surprised to see that the table on which the luncheon was served was very abundantly supplied with bottles labeled 'Whisky,' 'Brandy' and 'Champaigne.' But when these bottles came to be uncorked they were all found to contain nothing but water."—Chicago Herald.

DAILY CARDINAL STAFF CHOSEN

Students to Have Complete Control of Publication This Year; New Plan

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 22.—With its first issue today the Daily Cardinal, the sprightly student sheet of the University of Wisconsin, began its twenty-fourth year. At its inception a four page modest but enterprising publication, it has grown to a twelve page journal covering not only all university news but world news as well, and contains a large amount of advertising by Madison merchants. A woman's page, edited by co-eds, is an interesting feature to be continued this year. Today's issue has 20 pages. The paper now issues in the morning, following a precedent set two years ago.

The Daily Cardinal was founded by W. W. Young, formerly editor of Hampton's Magazine.

The paper begins the year under a new plan of management. The control is now vested in the student body through a board of control composed of representative students. An advisory board selected from the faculty oversees the financial end.

The editorial staff as far as chosen follows: Managing editor, Harold Jennes, Nampa, Idaho; assistants, Donald Higgins, Madison; W. F. Clifford, Evansville, Ind.; university editor, Arthur W. Prussing, Chicago; general business manager, Alvin H. Kessler, Madison; editorial writer, Harold L. Markel, Milwaukee. Reporters will be selected as a result of competitive tryouts.

How to Make Your Hair Beautiful

Ten Minutes' Home Treatment Works Wonders, Stops Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff and Makes the Hair Soft, Brilliant, Lustrous and Fluffy

Better than all the so-called "hair tonics" in the world is a simple old-fashioned home recipe consisting of plain Bay Rum, Lavona (de Composee), and a little Menthol Crystals. These three mixed at home in a few minutes, work wonders with any scalp. Try it just one night and see. Get from your druggist 2 oz. Lavona, 6 oz. Bay Rum and 1/2 drachm Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and pour in an 8 oz. bottle. Then add the Lavona, shake well and let it stand for an hour before using. Apply it by putting a little of the mixture on soft cloth. Draw this cloth slowly through the hair, taking just one small strand at a time. This cleanses the hair and scalp of dirt, dust and excessive oil and makes the hair delightfully soft, lustrous and fluffy. To stop the hair from falling and to make it grow again rub the lotion briskly into the scalp with the finger tips or a medium stiff brush. Apply night and morning. A few days' use and you will not find a single loose or straggling hair. They will be locked on your scalp as tight as a vice. Dandruff will disappear and itching cease. You will find fine downy new hairs sprouting up all over your scalp and this new hair will grow with wonderful rapidity.

Any druggist can sell you the above. The prescription is very inexpensive and we know of nothing so effective and certain in its results.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision for over 30 years. Allow no one to deceive you in this. Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments, and endanger the health of Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GERMAN SIDE OF LOUVAIN EXPLAINED

Commander of the German Troops There Says There Was No Harm Done Until Citizens Shot

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Martin Tors, an importer, gave the German side of Louvain by the Prussians today when he arrived on the Holland-American boat, Nieuw Amsterdam. Tors got the story first hand from Col. Von Esmarch, close personal friend, who was wounded at Louvain.

"There was no trouble for several days after the main body of the German advance had passed through Louvain," said Tors, "leaving a rear guard detachment in charge. About the third day, however, several rockets were sent up and almost immediately, the populace, rose as if by signal and began killing the German soldiers from windows and roofs of their houses."

Many passengers of the Nieuw Amsterdam were in Berlin on September 2, the anniversary of Sedan. They said Berlin celebrated the occasion by parading between 40,000 and 100,000 French, British and Cossack prisoners of war through Unter den Linden.

"Madame" Fitted Him.

The friends of a certain senator say that, although it is admitted that someone used senate stationery to promote a mining scheme, it is very unjust to make any charge of dishonesty against the kindly old man. To illustrate his character, they tell this story: He was one of the funeral party that accompanied the body of a distinguished senator to its burial place. On the return trip he went early to bed. The next morning his round, red face, devoid of hair, gentle of expression and wrinkled, was thrust out of his berth as the Pullman conductor passed by. "Are we on time, captain?" called out the senator in his thin piping voice. "Just on time, madame," said the conductor, as he lifted his hat and passed on.

ARREST ALLEGED THIEVES.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Three men, suspected of connection with the theft of diamonds said to be worth $50,000 from the residence of Nellie Clark, in Kankakee, Ill., were arrested in a saloon here today.

DIES IN ESCAPE.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Sept. 22.—Death is today conceded the victor over law. Emanuel Ferron, aged 22, while yesterday making his escape from the state home for the feeble-minded, flung himself into swirling rapids, 300 feet wide, in Chippewa river. Guards were close on his heels. When within twenty feet of safety at the other side, he sank. The body was not recovered.

CAN WALK FOR FAME.

"Son, do you aspire to see your name written on the scroll of fame?" "Of course, I wouldn't object to that, father, but just now I'm a great deal more anxious to see my monogram on a $7,000 automobile."—Baltimore Sun.

AGREE ON CLAYTON BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Complete agreement on the Clayton omnibus anti-trust bill was in sight when the senate and house conferees met today. Their report will probably be concluded tomorrow and the bill placed in the president's hands before the end of the week.

All of a Twist.

"Is that woman over there having a fit?"

"No. Her arms are full of bundles and she's trying to see what time it is by her wrist watch."—Birmingham Age-Herald.
